 Have fun at JMU.
 Don't party too much.

Brad

John,
 Thanks for all the songs you let me tape. That's pretty cool what you do with the record charts.
 We had a great time in English, didn't we? Mr. Gauseman was hilarious! I'm sure he was only kidding when he cracked those jokes on you.
 Good luck in your future!

John.

Can you believe this?

We only have two more days left.

We miss all the neat class like Calculus, don't we?

I still remember that you told me you are majoring

To John, the math genius,

John,
your side hurt? Do you have an indentation? That was a highlight of my baseball career. It's great to see you growing. It's about time. Well it's been a long time since fr. High. We're finally getting out. Life is about to start. Good luck in the future. Maybe when you die, I'll weigh your brain. You can't be that smart. Just remember to thank your parents for giving you my name.

John,

It was nice to have you in Calculus. In the future may your life be filled with knowledge and happiness. I did not get to know you very well but I wish I could have. Remember that with enough knowledge one can change the world.
I hope someone will and for the letter. Have a summer.

Let Our Spirit Carry Us!

SPIRIT

Cowboys, girls in suits, siamese twins, people in green and gold— there's only one event that links together that attire—SPIRIT WEEK! There is a vital force of enthusiasm in everything we do here, and pep rallies and spirit weeks provide the spark that ignites it.

The understanding of the pride of the valley is best displayed in the faces of our 1,780 students. We are truly "Soaring with Spirit" as our theme states.

HEIGHT

Seneca students have reached their peak. Overcrowding in classrooms was corrected early in the year by hiring several new teachers. The halls, however, are still crowded and it takes the full five minutes to reach the next class.

Screams can be heard from way up high as everybody's favorite team romps onto the field. Football is the most patronized sport by the student body.

Growth has also taken place in the minds of our students. We show satisfaction in our work and enjoyment in our sports. This year we had six national merit scholars. There is a push in Seneca as well as this country for excellency in education.

Paradise

1. A Happy bunch, Paul Schrantz, Kathy Clark, Lynn King, Eric Folger.

As all seniors learn, good things come to those who wait. By May 25, 1984, Seneca's graduating class had had enough of waiting; they were ready to party!

The excitement began to build as, one by one, rented limousines pulled up to the Bethesda Holiday Inn. Young men in tuxedos, all with newfound manners, helped their ladies from their cars. Slowly, the ballroom filled and the 1984 Junior-Senior Prom began.

This night was special to all involved and particularly for the four seniors whose hard work had made it all possible. Senior class officers Missy Oahl, Tom Vander Ven, Gina Solis, and Shannon Pella had put in many hours choosing the band, the location, arranging fund raisers, and working out all of the details of the Prom.

The band played a wide variety of songs and everyone had a great time whether jammin' to rock and roll or sharing tender moments with their special someone during the band's slow dances.

The king of the Prom was basketball star, Charlie Thomas, and his date Tonya Zarate, was the queen. The two of them made an adorable couple and were the perfect choice for king and queen.

After the dance ended, the celebration was still far from over; there were many more parties to attend, most of which went on till dawn. Many couples could be found the next morning in their tuxes and gowns, eating breakfast out with their dates. Some even drove to the beach, not so much for the meal, but more so to watch a romantic sunrise over the water.

Any Senior Prom is a once-in-a-lifetime experience but the 1984 graduating class certainly made theirs one to remember.

Let's Remember

Graduation was always something that seemed so far away - for twelve years the class of '84 had been dreaming about the day when they would graduate from high school. On June 5, 1984, their dreams were fulfilled.

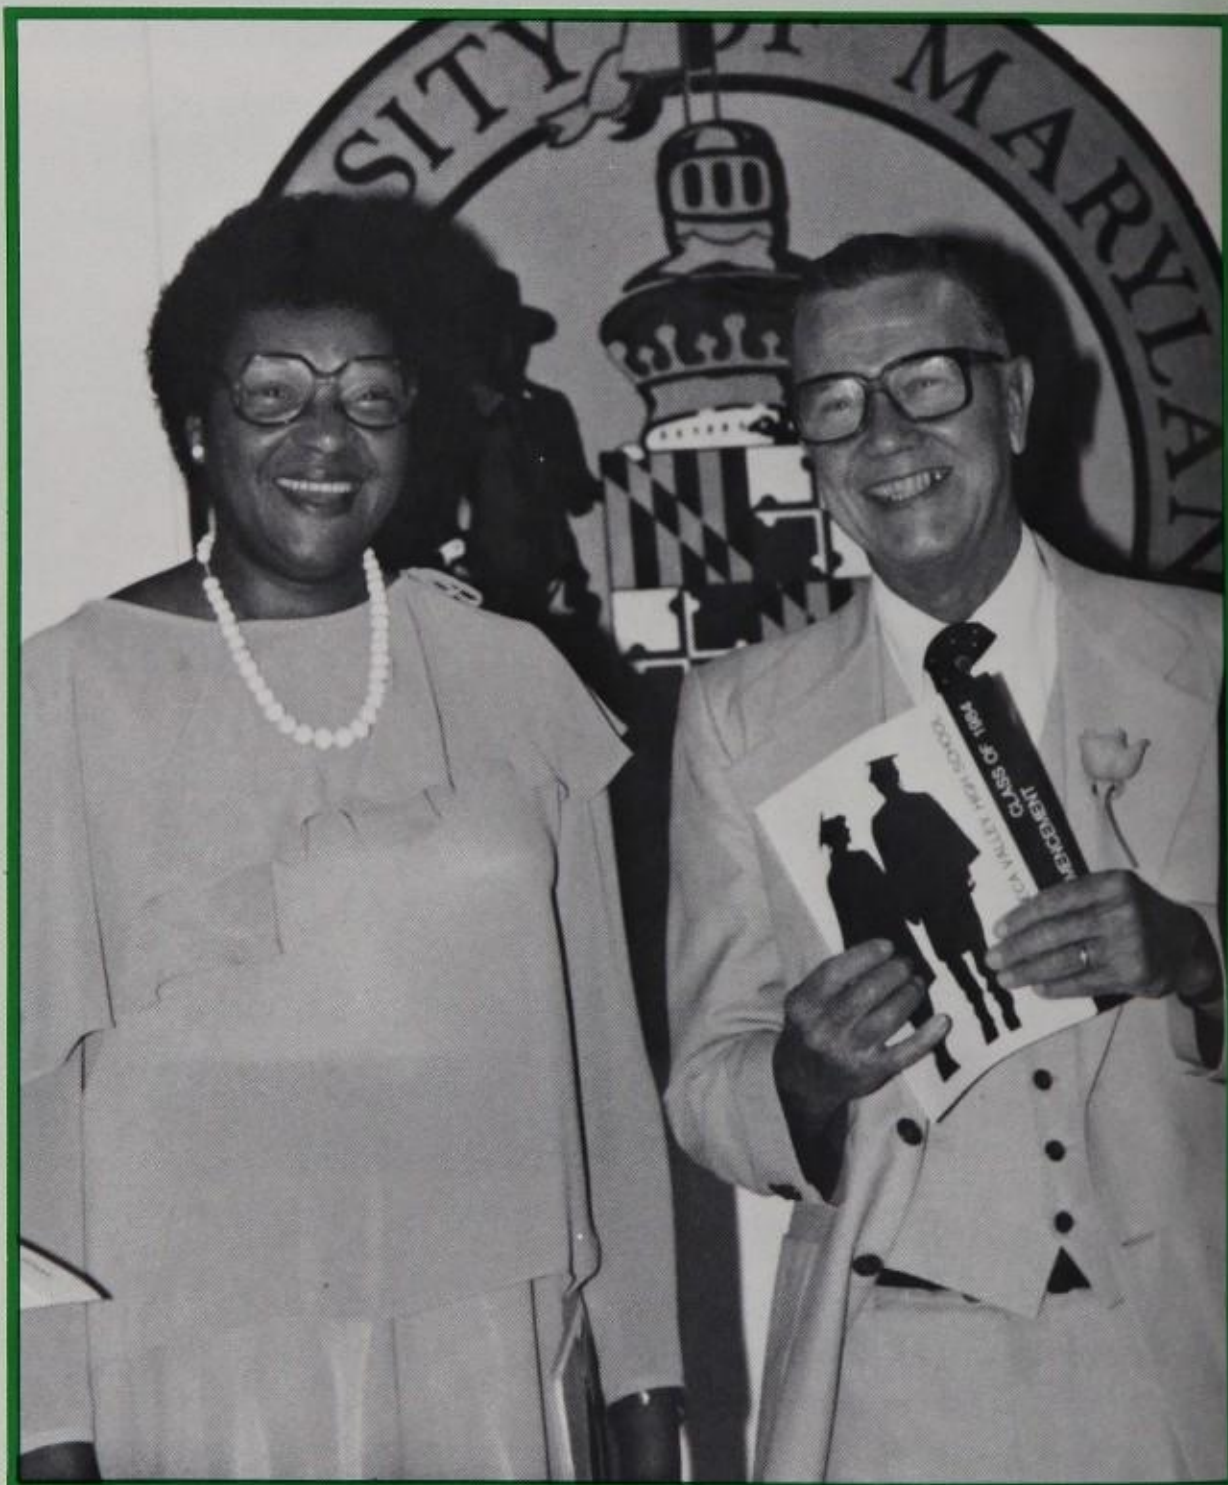

As the 546 seniors filed into the Cole Field House with families and friends looking on, you could feel the excitement in the air. Not even the stifling heat could suppress the enthusiasm felt by all present.

This day reunited the seniors with their former principal, Nathan Pearson, who had retired from Seneca in 1983. Mr. Pearson spoke to the class about the future and passed on words of wisdom on how to make their lives happy and successful.

Class president Missy Oahl also addressed the class. She spoke about the good times they had shared in the past and how they had all grown up together through the years. She wished the class much luck in their lives.

Susan Bruce, valedictorian of the class, encouraged the students to set high goals for themselves and then achieve them through hard work and dedication.

After listening to all of the speeches, the moment that everyone was waiting for finally came. It was time for the seniors to receive their diplomas. One by one, each student went to accept this piece of paper that resulted from many years of hard work. After all the graduates were seated, Missy Oahl made graduation final when she announced, "Seniors, turn your tassles!"

As the ceremony ended, tears, laughter, hugs and kisses were seen throughout the graduates. They knew that it was time to move on to a new phase of their lives, but it was still hard to say good-bye to old friends. This bittersweet moment would be locked in the memories of the members of the class of 1984.

Eagles Soar With Spirit

school spirit, the friendliness of people, the closeness of our student body, personalities of students and the fact that there is a place for everyone at Seneca. The guys also noted the people and the spirit and added Seneca's winning tradition, the atmosphere around the school and the dedication of the staff.

During the week, spirit chains were sold to prove which class was the most spirited. Each class was represented by a different colored link, the chains were strung out across the cafeteria and the class with the longest chain won. The seniors again showed their spirit by having a chain that stretched all the way around the cafeteria.

On Theme Day, the classes got another chance to show their spirit. Sophomores could be found in cowboy hats, flannel shirts and jeans, while juniors sported the space look with plastic dresses on the girls and space suits on the guys. Seniors dressed for Halloween a little early with scary masks and greusome make-up. The competition was close between the juniors and seniors, but the seniors won out in the end, giving them a large lead going into Friday's float competition.

The floats were a sight to see. The sophomores depicted an old fashioned western hayride.

2. New Homecoming Queen, Patrice King gets crowned by last year's queen Davika Parikh.

An outer space planet was invented by the juniors, with a space ship, and break-dancing space men. The seniors made a graveyard scene, including a coffin and tombstones with various monsters and creatures wandering around. The competition was again very close. The classes were eagerly anticipating the judges' decision at half-time of the game. The seniors won the judges over and won Spirit Week with a clean sweep in all categories.

The football team; however, was not as lucky as the seniors when they lost a hard-fought battle, 7-0.

The floats were not the only halftime festivities. The royal court was introduced and last year's queen, Devika Parikh announced the winners. Hope Emerick was voted as the crowned princess and senior class Vice President Patrice King was given the honor of Queen. Senior class president Eric McDonald received the title of King.

2. The NJROTC float gets ready to make its way around the track.
3. Jeff Hoes and Ernite Frazier make their last homecoming the best ever.

The exciting week of homecoming finally came to an end on Saturday night, with the Homecoming dance. The gym was filled and not even the heat could stop the couples from dancing the night away. The theme song was "Ain't No Stoppin' Us" and the students proved that to be true. To cool off between dances many couples took a stroll by the wishing well. The last dance came too soon and most couples left for other parties to continue the celebration. It was a bittersweet moment for the seniors, who knew that this would be their last Homecoming at Seneca. At least they made it one to remember.

A Week Of Fun

"Seneca Goes Hollywood" was the theme for this year's homecoming. The sophomores were assigned Westerns; the juniors had Science-Fiction movies and the seniors got Horror films. The week was a festive one, with the school brimming over with enthusiasm and spirit.

For each day of the week, there was a new style of dress. Monday, people sported the laid back look with their hats and shades. Tuesday, was the day for digging into the back of mom's closet to find some loud, tacky clothes. A Hawaiian theme ruled on Wednesday, with leis, sandals and bright flowered shirts and shorts. Monsters, Martians and cowboys were walking the halls on Thursday, as each class dressed up for it's own theme. Finally, Friday was Green & Gold day.

One of the highpoints of Homecoming week is always the decorated halls, and this year was no exception. By Tuesday, all of the weeks of planning and hours of setting up paid off. Students and teachers were greeted with An assembly was held to introduce the King and Queen nominees to the students. The princesses were Susan Fazakerley, Michele Gomez, Hope Emerick, Cindy Atwater, Tina Haba, Patrice King, and Sharon Vargo. Kevin Wilkes, Jeff Poland, Andy Malloy, Jeff Hoes, Eric McDonald, Ronald Christy, and John Alter were the princes.

Spirit Rising With Homecoming

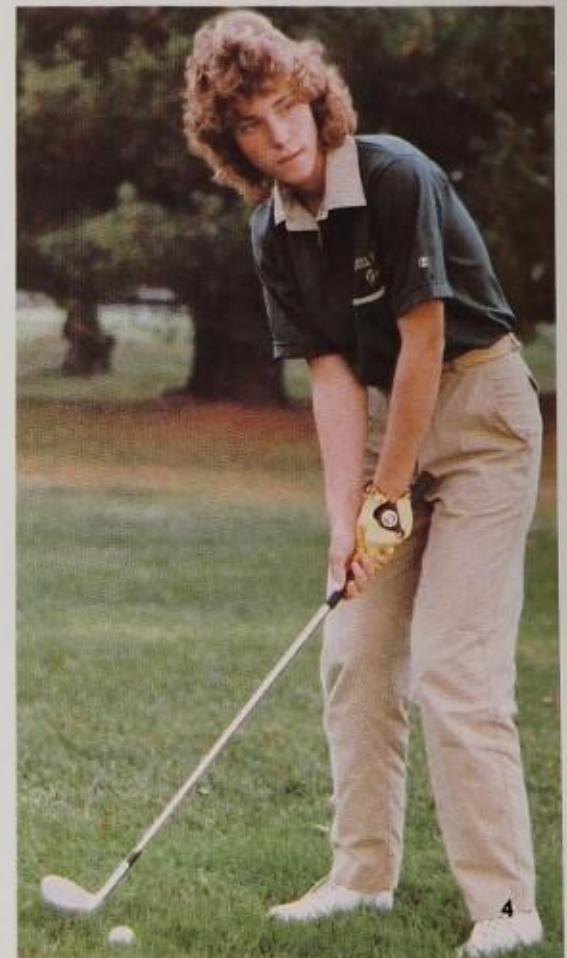

In the midst of the Homecoming festivities at Seneca, another exciting event was also in progress - Seneca's golf team was on its way to capturing its Second State Title in three years.

The team was the top qualifier in the District Tournament, and on October 25 and 26, 1984, four members of the team, Clare Dolan, Ed Dolan, John Nelson, and Steve Van Zutphen, traveled to the University of Maryland to participate in the state tournament.

They competed against the best golfers in the state and came out with a three stroke lead after the first day. Clare Dolan paced the team with a score of 74, followed by John Nelson and Ed Dolan, each with a score of 80, and Steve Van Zutphen came in with an 83.

On the second day of competition, the Eagles ran away from their competitors, finishing fourteen strokes ahead of the nearest competitor. Clare Dolan again led the team with a score of 75, but John Nelson and Steve Van Zutphen finished close behind with a 76 and a 77 respectively.

That night the team returned to Seneca and thrilled the crowd at the football game with their fantastic accomplishment.

Mr. Samuda and Mr. McCulloch spend much of their free time managing and making the School Store the success that it is. Some of its volunteers include: Amy Wetmore, Lori Caton, Thanh Nga Burrill, Caryn Stern, Kathy De Santis, Maureen Roche, and Paige Pawlak. The School Store sells a variety of things from candy to shirts to folders and many other things that an Eagle would need to survive and the money goes to a worthy cause- the school!! So come to the School Store before it is too late!

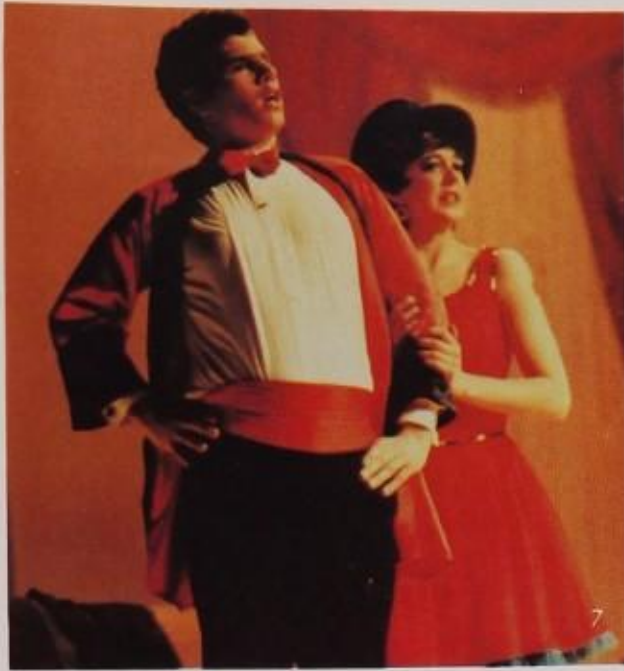

Dr. Bogar, along with student director, Sheila Brady, directed one of Seneca Valley's greatest musical creations yet, Sweet Charity. All of the dance numbers were choreographed by Sandy Joseph and the dance captain, Caroline Cash. Caroline also played one of the lead roles, Helene; along with senior, Michelle Gomez who played Nikki. The starring role, Charity, was played by Susan Fazackerley; who had the dedication and energy it took to, not only do a superb job as Charity, but to hold the cast and crew together throughout the entire show. Together, these three worked hard to give the show its polished effect. Charles Foster played the male lead, Oscar. Char participated in theater all three years that he was at Seneca, and lent his experience to the entire cast to help perfect this musical masterpiece.

The orchestra, led by Mr. Jim Heier, and the vocals by Mr. John Scott.

Kicking It Off With The Octoberfest

Dance Club kicked off the 1984-1985 school year with the Octoberfest in Germantown. From polkas to break-dancing, the performance was full of excitement and had a touch of something for everyone. Before these dancing feet could rest it was onto the year's Dance Club show entitled "We Got the Beat."

Long hours of work coupled with a hectic pace were overcome by a unique enthusiastic team spirit producing a colorful panache of dance rhythms for each generation making this a show to remember.

The finale of the year was the Drama Department's production of "Gypsy" under the direction of Dr. Tom Bogar and choreographed by Sandra Joseph and Camille Catchpole.

Awareness In Fashion

The Ethnic Awareness Club is in its sixth year of existence at Seneca Valley. The club—sponsored by Mrs. Joyce Gamble—was first formed to bring together those students to various ethnic backgrounds.

In the past, EAC has participated in community projects, given Black History programs, and engaged in many fundraisers to contribute to the Seneca Valley Minority College Fund and the United Negro College Fund. This year, activities included making fruit baskets for the senior citizens at Xmas, taking an historical trip to the home of Frederick Douglass, presenting an assembly plus other related activities during Black History Month, and putting on the annual spring fashion show. A new feature was the production of the "Ms. Seneca Contest" open to all students and sponsored exclusively by the Ethnic Awareness Club.

The Eaglettes: Pride And Precision

One can see how hard this year's Pom Pon squad practiced to get their routines down perfectly. Well before the school year started, the "Eaglettes" began learning and diligently practicing under the leadership of their Captain Caroline Thompson and Co-Captain Allison O'Dell.

The Pom squad, sponsored by Career Information Assistant Jane Sowers, displayed their talents at all the pep rallies, football and basketball games; arousing the spirit of the Eagle fans with their complex and precisioned routines.

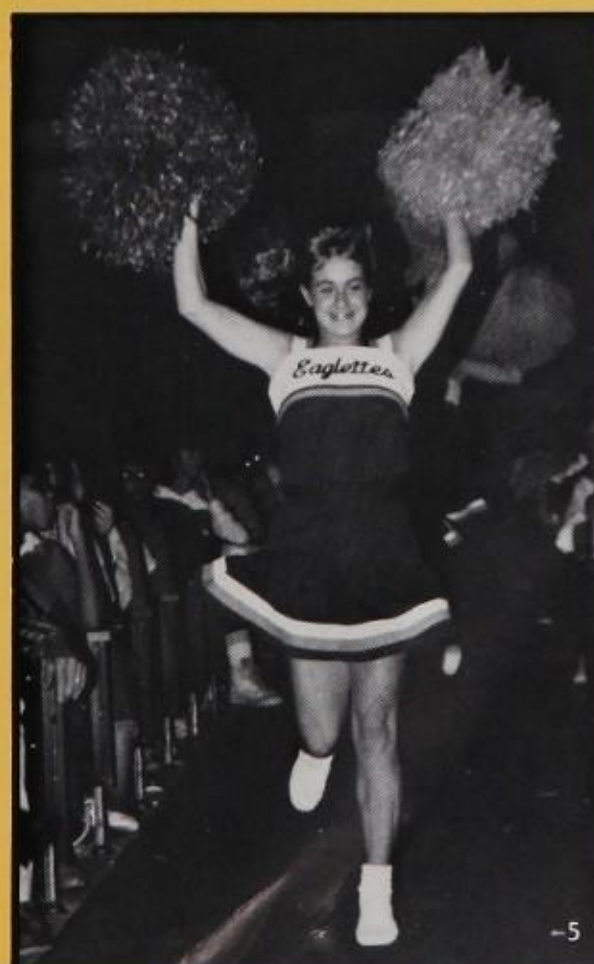

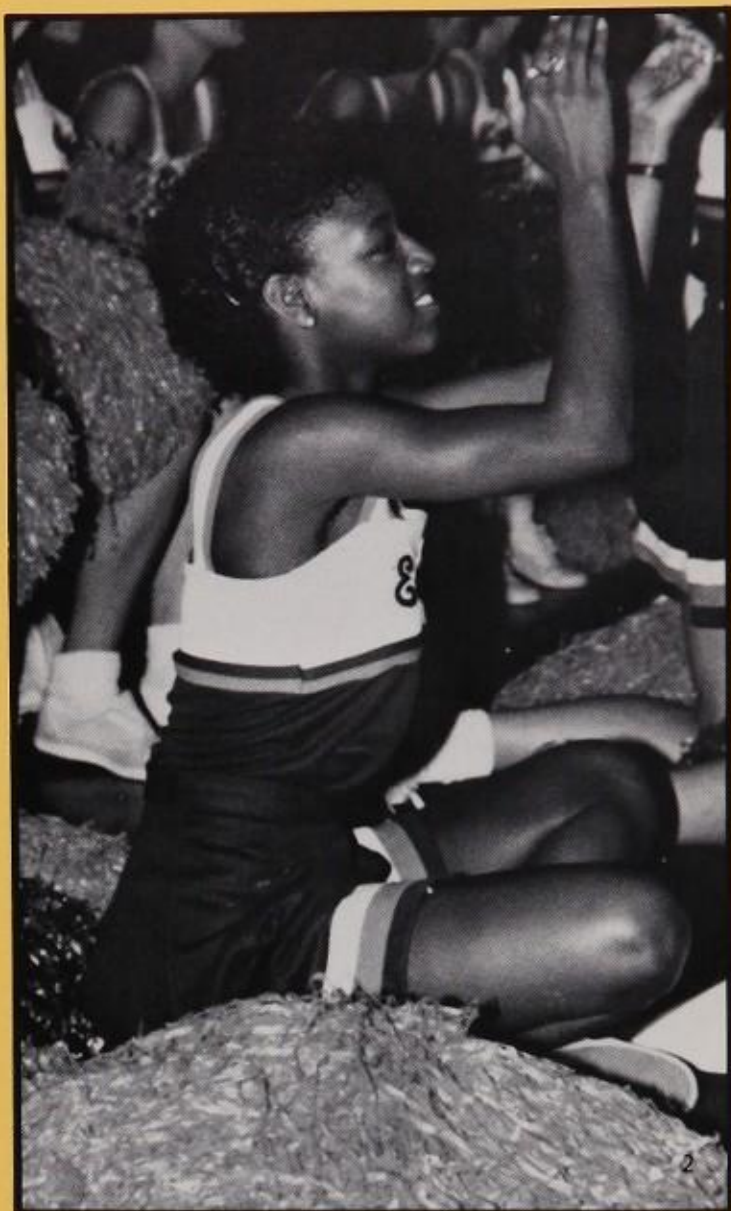

Performing was the easy part. But being an "Eaglette" was not just fun and games, it took many hours to learn these peppy routines, practicing and perfecting new steps that were coordinated into routines done to live music. It's hard work but the "Eaglettes" feel that it was well worth the work of a perfect performance.

We Got The Beat!!!

Orchestra, jazz, and symphonic bands have added spark and liveliness to Seneca Valley's activities this past year. The bands have been instrumental in Seneca's sports, Arts and Theater endeavors.

The marching symphonic band performs at football games and pep rallies to raise the fans and players' spirits.

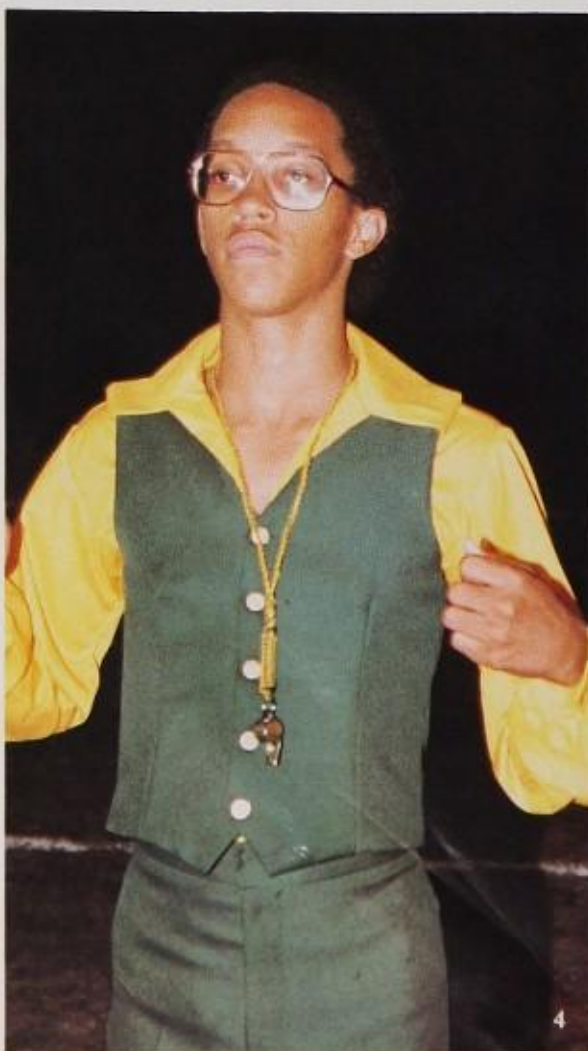

Each year the Drama Department presents two plays in the fall and the summer. At each of these plays, the pit band accompanies them. The pit band includes the orchestra, jazz, and symphonic band members. They also attend each rehearsal and go over the play's music.

The jazz band will travel to five concerts and the County Jazz Festival this year.

As a whole, the bands will participate in the county and state festivals and the Pops Concerts.

"We Got The Beat"

This year Seneca Valley's Dance Club performed their second annual all dance show. This hit show, titled "We Got the Beat", featured snappy Broadway tunes as well as hard, flashy, body-working numbers. Choreographers Sandra Joseph and Camille Catchpole brought this large group of talented students to become one of Seneca Valley's fastest growing clubs.

Cheering for the J.V. sports is different than cheering for Varsity sports, but these eight dedicated girls did it! Waking up at 8:00 A.M. to cheer at a 10:00 A.M. game doesn't seem like much fun, but the J.V. cheerleaders enjoyed every minute of it.

These girls participated in fundraisers during the year as well as helping out with Homecoming decorations.

Throughout football and basketball season each girl had a chance to show her individual leadership as each week the girls rotated the position of captain. It was a gratifying experience.

Enjoying It All!

Enthusiastic And Spirited!

Hard work and dedication is what it takes to make a great cheerleading squad. This year's Varsity squad began their hard work during the summer.

The members of the 1984-85 Varsity squad attended Camp Rambelwood to learn new chants, cheers, and lessons in leadership. Discipline and dedication were largely enforced during the girls' stay at camp. Days began at 6:00 A.M. when they were called to 'rise and shine'. Breakfast was served and immediately following, practice began.

After practicing all day, the different squads competed against one another at night. S.V.'s squad won blue ribbons three out of the four nights of this competition. In a final competition, S.V.'s squad, with their spirit and enthusiasm, proudly took the prize for the best, overall squad.

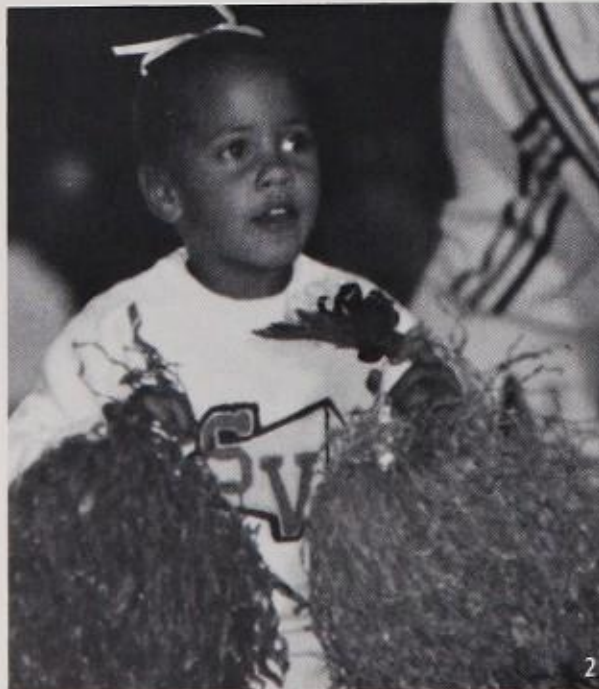

The cheerleaders did a marvelous job at arousing the crowd's spirit when S.V.'s team was winning and inspiring the crowd when the team was down. Much enthusiasm, pride, and spirit was shown by everyone, even the parents. John Nanto did a fine job showing his spirit and amazing the crowd with his back flips. "This year the crowds were the best ever," say the cheerleaders.

A Christmas Carol

"Bah! Humbug!" was not the audience's reaction to the Center Stage production of A Christmas Carol on December 14 and 15. The classic Dickens tale was brought to life by a fine cast, accompanied by the singing of the Chamber Chorale. The production starred Joe Maguire as Scrooge and Shelly Ridder as the narrator. The efforts of the make-up and costume crews added both realistic 19th century clothing and three apparitions scary enough to evoke screams from the children in the audience. The stage and props crews contributed to the authentic period decor. This dramatic effort of over sixty people was held together by the creative direction of Dr. Tom Bogar, assisted by Susan Fazakerley and Susan Rudick, and Stage Managers Wendy Oakey and Kelly Ann Toland. Center Stage's production of A Christmas Carol not only brought holiday warmth to our audiences, but contributed box office proceeds to the Montgomery County Hunger Fund.

- 1) Shelly Ridder acted as narrator throughout the play.
- 2) Mike Brady made a spine-chilling ghost.
- 3) Ron Christy, as the ghost of Christmas present, shows Scrooge a look at the life he leads.
- 4) Ken Harley, playing the ghost of Christmas past, leads Scrooge on a trip through the past.

- 5) Members of the cast First row: Diane Groff, Shanti Parikh, Shelley Grant, Dawn Cannon, friend, Caryn Stern, friend, Nancy Cuff, friend, David Mitchell, friend, Wendy Hunt, Jon Nanto, Maurita Zielinski, Linda Robinson. Brings Holiday Cheer

3) The thieves check out the items taken from Scrooge's bedroom.
4) "God bless us all!", exclaims Tiny Tim.
5) The Chamber Chorale sang Christmas Carols throughout the entire performance.

1) The Members of Chorus Mr. Scott is the director.

The Singing Eagles

Under the direction of Mr. Scott, the Chorus performed at various schools, and at Homecoming. This member vocal Ensemble sang at numerous spots in the Community.

2) The Chorus sings in perfect harmony.
3) A chorus member adds his talent to the song.

1) Practice makes perfect in the Chamber Chorale.

Together In Perfect Harmony

During second period, floating voices could be heard; evidence that the Chamber Chorale was at work again. This year, the 27 member choir rehearsed daily for the Christmas and Spring Concerts, and took short trips to perform at Community groups. The Chamber Chorale presented classical works as well as arrangements of modern songs. Directed by Mr. Scott, this group has the motivation to sing anywhere. Members include: Susie Booher, Dawn Cannon, Caroline Cash, Nancy Cuff, Susie Engle, Susan Fazakerly, Jody Fields, Julie Hemming, Heather Midgely, Krissy Parker, Diane Pickle, Beth and Renee Rabben, Susan Rudick, Anne Schindler, Julie Semenuk, Caryn Stern, Paige Zielinski, Mike Brady, Rick Brown, Richard Emer, Ken Grundy, Ken Harley, Skeets Kelley, Pete Botting, David Mitchell, Richard Parker, and Carlos Robinson.

- 2) The Chamber Chorale members make beautiful music together.
- 3) Susan Fazakerly and Dawn Cannon add their voice to the Chorale.

NJROTC . . . Not Just a Course

The Naval Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps, first offered at Seneca in 1982, teaches students some of the skills they need to become military officers, such as marching, following direct commands, and drilling with Springfield rifles.

The Color Guard performs at all home football and basketball games during the year. The Drill Team performs at several drill meets a year, the biggest taking place at Norfolk. Also this year, there was a Seneca Valley Invitational Drill Meet where our school was the overall winner.

Naval Science Instructor Commander Wiest and Assistant Instructor Mr. Hutchinson gladly announced that students have had success with the course. For instance, (Ens.) Brian Rowland has been offered an Army ROTC scholarship at Penn. State U. (Lt.Cdr.) Wallace Banach and (Ens.) M. Peachek have been nominated to the U.S. Naval Academy. And also, (Lt.) P. Dillon and (Ens.) R. Green attended the Leadership Academy.

The Show Must Go On!

"Curtain Up!", "Light the lights!", and "Quiet backstage!" were just a few of the memorable phrases used by Center Stage members this year. Several highlights of the year included the selling of refreshments in Halloween costumes at the Gaithersburg/Seneca game, the ever-popular M & M sales, the movie and improvisation nights, the assisting with the Dance Club production, the trip to see Ben Voreen in Grind, and the Center Stage productions of A Christmas Carol and Gypsy. Sponsored by Dr. Bogar, Center Stage proved to be a club full of fun, energetic, exciting people who knew how to make others feel good about themselves.

- 3) Penny Glover and Jessica Steichen both know that studying the lines first is important.
- 4) Joe Maguire did an excellent job playing the leading role of Scrooge in Center Stage's production of A Christmas Carol.

French Club

The Seneca Valley French club was sponsored by Madame A. Dudley. This group of students met every two weeks to plan their various activities, including after school movie parties, home parties, and trips to French restaurants. This club was a good opportunity for students to get together and enjoy a little French culture.

1) The French Club Members

Spanish Club

The 1984-1985 school year marked the second year of the existence of the Spanish Club at Seneca Valley. Last year's president senior Brad Rosenthal, was elected to serve another term, and senior Thanh Nga Burrell was selected as vice-president. Students in the Spanish Club were brought together by a mutual love for, and appreciation of, the language.

2) The Spanish Club Members

German Club

Seneca Valley's German Club, sponsored by Frau Hunter, had a very eventful year. One important service they performed was raising funds for the Foreign Language Computer through the sale of Toblerones. They also took a trip to the National Art Gallery and made German gingerbread heart cookies for Valentine's Day.

1) The German Club Members
First row: Joe Maguire, Vickie Fang, Dennis Vich, Dimitri Holman, Steve Marzof.
Second: Forrest Chang, Ben Thompson, John Hoppes, Daniel Hoppes, Brett Chontos, Peter Heyman.

Latin Club

The Latin Club at Seneca Valley had another successful year. Although the club only had three classes of Latin students to draw from, it was not lacking in membership. The members enjoyed participating in activities such as a trip to a Greek restaurant. Miss Magee sponsored the club.

2) The Latin Club Members

Russian Club

The Seneca Valley Russian Club met once a week to plan various activities after school. This club was an opportunity for the members to get together outside of the class and speak Russian.

1) The Russian Club Members

First row: Gidget Bunnell, Melanie Bogashefsky, Lisa Samorajczyk, Brad Rosenthal, Vickie Fang, Julie Commette. Second: Wendy Gilson, Courtney Clements, Joe Maguire, Brit Chontos, Peter Heyman.

What A Blast!

For the past two years, the Space Shuttle Team has been developing a project to be launched on a future shuttle mission. The project, deemed SPAM (Seneca Polyethylene Agravity Melt), involves the melting and recrystallizing of polyethylene in zero-gravity. The group hopes to find that the formation of the crystals is more uniform without gravity, thus creating a stronger plastic. Mrs Cox is the sponsor for this group of highly motivated young scientists.

2) The Space Shuttle Team Members

Math Team Scores Victory

The Math Team, represented by students from all classes, competed against four other teams in meets held every other week. Five members made up the A-team, whose scores counted for the actual competition, while the scores from the rest of the members (B-team) counted toward individual achievement. At the end of the season the team attended the Wootton Invitational, where 22 schools were represented. Seneca Valley finished 12th. The captains, Steve Ervin and Rajesh Patel, were extremely impressed with the performance of the sophomore members and predict an outstanding team for next year.

1) The Math Team Members

First row: Rajesh Patel, Steve Ervin. Second: Charlotte Kim, Alpa Desai, Billy Willner, Raja Shraff, David Roberts, David Ervin, Lee Yoon, Diane Pickle, Amy Rabb, Meeyoung Yoon, Jimyoung Yoon. The Wave Of The Future

The Computer Club was one of Seneca's many successful clubs this year. Led by Mr. Bokansky, members of the computer club met to discuss programs they had created, and to gain more of an awareness of the computer itself.

2) Amy Caplan is proud to be a member in one of Seneca's more popular clubs this year.

3) Christie Nguyen types up the program she wrote on the computer.

4) Mr. Bokansky is one of the teachers who led the computer club this year.

The Speaking Eagles

This Year was perhaps the best year SV's Forensics team has had. "The Speaking Eagles" competed in the categories of humor, prose, poetry, and extemporaneous and persuasive speaking.

1) The Forensics Team

Debate Team

The Debate Team meets weekly to prepare for competitions against various other high schools. This year the team was very active and worked together successfully, showing their school spirit.

2) The Debate Team

Front: Tracy Lutz. Second: John Alter, Jon Kay, and Ken Littrell.

Physics Is Phun

The 1984-1985 Physics team was an intelligent, dedicated group of students who made Seneca Valley proud. In keeping with the SV tradition of aspiring towards excellence, the team members used their wits and intellect, in addition to their knowledge of physics, to compete against other schools in the Physics Olympics matches.

1) The Physics Club Members

Epitome Of Excellence

The longest running quiz show in the history of television. "What is Jeopardy?" Wrong. "What is Dynasty?" Wrong. "What is It's Academic?" That's right, and is it any wonder? It's Academic combines the immediate excitement of sky-diving with the long term security of a good IRA account.

The team representing Seneca Valley is made up of three seniors: Sam Kim, Mark Leonard, and John Mingus the Captain. There are also dozens of faithful supporters - the "little people" without whose help, the success of the team would not have been possible. The team walked away from the first game with an impressive victory over Edison and Bishop Ireton.

2) The It's Academic Team Members

3) The It's Academic Team

1) The SGA Officers

First row: Amy Caplan, Cindy Atwater, Patti Howard. Second: Rajesh Patel, Jeff Poland, Georgia Sullivan.
2) Jeff Poland, as vice-president of SGA, discusses more important matters in representing the student body.

Student Government Association

Careful planning and organization were key factors in the success of the Student Government Association at Seneca Valley this year. Under the guidance of Mr. Bokansky, the S.G.A. officers worked diligently to keep their fellow students informed of all school functions.

The student involvement in S.G.A. activities was very impressive this year. Sincere thanks are in order for those of you who supported our efforts such as Homecoming, the Bloodmobiles, the canned food drive, Paint-a-Brick, the computer match, the Wheel-Chair-a-thon, and candy sales. We are grateful to our Executive Board Committee members and senators as well.

3) The SGA Members

First row: Kim Stevenson, Melanie Bogasheksky, Georgia Sullivan. Second: Amy Caplan, Patti Howard, Dana Javadvour. Third: John Alter, Rajesh Patel, Jeff Poland, Cindy Atwater.

Fourth: Kelly Rogers, Leigh Rubinstein, Melody Mendenhall, Tina Yu, Michelle Burch, Christie Schuchter, Diane Pickle. Fifth: Jeff Ludwig, Sam Kim, Amy Rabb, Mrs. Adkins.

The National Honor Society

Many People believe that this year's Seneca Valley chapter of the National Honor Society is the best ever, because of the tremendous amount of motivation of its members. Not only have they continued to dedicate themselves to their studies in school, but they have also strived to aid their community. The officers initiated fundraisers, which members were only too happy to participate in, and NHS members organized a college fair and continued the in-school tutoring program.

2) The NHS continued to strive for excellence throughout their senior year, with president Mike Ho, vice president Courtney Clements, secretary Vickie Fang, and treasurer Brad Rosenthal.

- 1) Many parents meet and support our school's Booster Club.
- 2) The membership of Boosters has risen each year proving it to be a worthwhile endeavor.

Boosters . . . Our Eager Supporters

The Seneca Valley Booster Club consists of faculty, students, and parents of students who are concerned with an all-around education for those who attend our high school. Since 1974 this outstanding group has contributed hard work and support in keeping our extra curricular activities running smoothly.

The Booster Club has given support to such groups as: Football, Basketball, Softball, Band, Poms, National Honor Society, NJROTC, Swimming, Track, and Yearbook. The Boosters raise money through projects like working in the football concession stands and selling snacks during the Christmas Basketball Tournament. In addition, the Boosters helped fund the lighting of the football field which started last year.

- 3) The members of the Booster Club discuss future projects needed to raise money.
- 4) The Boosters are concerned with a well-rounded education for the students of our school.

1) The Members of the Keyettes were: First row: Lisa Garlin, Shelly Ridder, Mindy Cassara, Tina Yu, Razia Kosi, Second: Mrs. Murfin, Ingrid Baik, Valerie Lewis, Yvonne Zietlow, Nancy Cassara, Kristen Kuehne, Monica Hill.

Keyettes . . . Opening New Doors

Seneca Valley's Keyettes is an organization whose primary concern is for community service. This organization consisted of twenty students and was sponsored by Mrs. Murfin. The Halloween party and other activities were funded by bake sales, cookie sales, car washes, flower sales, and the most successful, being the candy cane messages and Easter baskets with messages. All of the remaining funds were used in their annual Keyettes convention to Ocean City in April. As you can see, Keyettes was a big success this year!

- 2) Yvonne Zietlow is proud to be a Keyettes member and helping the community.
- 3) Shelly Ridder is happy with the success of the Keyettes and the special feeling of helping people.
- 4) Ingrid Baik points out to others the importance of the Keyettes in serving the community.

- 1) The Yearbook Sponsor: Bobbie McNairy.
- 2) Editors in Chief: Kelly Rogers and Pam Gerran.
- 3) Senior Section: Krissy Parker, Krissy Pay, Betsy Wexler, Debbie King, and Lisa Thompson.

The Yearbook Staff . . .

This year's yearbook staff met the challenges of deadlines and previously set high standards with determination and commitment. Staff members, under the leadership and guidance of advisor Mrs. McNairy, worked long hours throughout the entire schoolyear in order to successfully complete their jobs. Although many people originally signed up to be members of the staff only the truly dedicated stayed until the very end.

Some of the many duties of the yearbook staff include designing layouts, interviewing staff members and students, writing and editing copy, obtaining photographs of individuals and organizations, formulating ideas that went with out theme "Excel", thinking up original captions, and conducting student polls. Some of this was done during summer workshops but most of the work was accomplished on school days, occasionally not being completed until 6:00 P.M.

Seneca Valley's Yearbook Staff dedicated themselves to their peers, administrators, and teachers in the creation of a yearbook that exhibits the traditional "Pride of the Valley" and a special striving for excellence.

The SADD Fight To Save Lives

The message is clear-do not drink and drive. Those words are heard all over the country on TV, the radio, and on bumper stickers, largely due to groups such as SADD-Students Against Drunk Driving. The organization was in its formative stage last year, but became active this year. The group was formed as a response to need. A need for Americans, especially teenage drivers, to know the real consequences of driving while intoxicated.

SADD, which is open to all students and eager for new members, has ten active members, twenty altogether. The group brings information to students through posters in the halls and shocking PA announcements. They also help in trying to pass legislation for stricter laws and longer sentences for those convicted of drunk driving. President Sema Blackman and sponsor Mrs. Burkey feel that many deaths due to drunk driving last year are proof that something needs to be done. SADD agrees and is trying to eliminate such tragedies nationwide, and to prevent them from taking the life of any one at Seneca Valley.

2) Michelle James displays a poster drawn to convince to others, the importance of SADD.
3) Tracy Lutz and Sheila Spangler hold a bumper sticker showing their opinion of drunk driving.
4) Sema Blackman points out a poster portraying the life of a convicted drunk driver.

The Talon: Better Than Ever

The Talon gripped back into action this year with high energy, thanks to a new and enthusiastic staff. With Christie Nguyen as editor-in-chief, the full-time staff consisted of eighteen hard-working students. Pressing to meet the deadlines, the editors, reporters, and photographers dedicated many hours of their time during and after school to make the Talon a success story.

According to Talon's advisor, Mr. Stan Malless, this year's staff was the best newspaper staff he has had yet at Seneca. Each staff member was always able to count on another member to help him/her out of a tight situation, whether it would be helping Christie find a topic for her staff editorial, as the deadline drew near, or arriving with an ingenious caption for Suzi's cartoon at the last minute. This bunch of innovative Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores was one big, happy family with the nose for news.

For Seniors Only

The Senior Newsletter, exclusively for seniors, was introduced this year to provide general information. Information pertaining to college bound seniors, deadlines, scheduled events to occur, and announcements from various sources. Also, this newsletter ran several article series on students and organizations such as the "Senior of the Month." Finally, the newsletter welcomed comments and messages from all students hoping to get everyone involved.

Future Farmers Of America

The Seneca Valley chapter of the Future Farmers of America began the school year in an effort to improve the school's landscape. Mark Ryba, the FFA President, lead the horticulture class in planting willow trees, azalea shrubs, and tulip bulbs on the exterior of our school. This plan went under way in order to improve our school's appearance and to replace the number of trees cut down by vandels in the main entrance.

Many of the members participate in such projects involving horticulture, sheep, swine, horses, and rabbits. Also, FFA members are involved in special activities including: candy sales, citrus sales, banquets, and FFA week.

- 3) An FFA member stands among the plants cared for by the horticulture students in the greenhouse.

- 2) ESOL members: Ann Huynh, Carlo Crucillo, Mayra Donis, Mike Elhawa, Mrs. Sullivan.
- 3) Francesca Achea enjoys the ESOL program at Seneca.

As A Second Language

My Ups and Downs at Seneca Valley

It took me one week to find my way around Seneca Valley High School. I was afraid to talk in class because of my accent. I had a few problems adjusting at first. Students asked me the most childish questions about Africa. I was never accepted by the majority of blacks at Seneca. I thought that since they were my color they would help me, but it wasn't so. I never did understand that and probably never will.

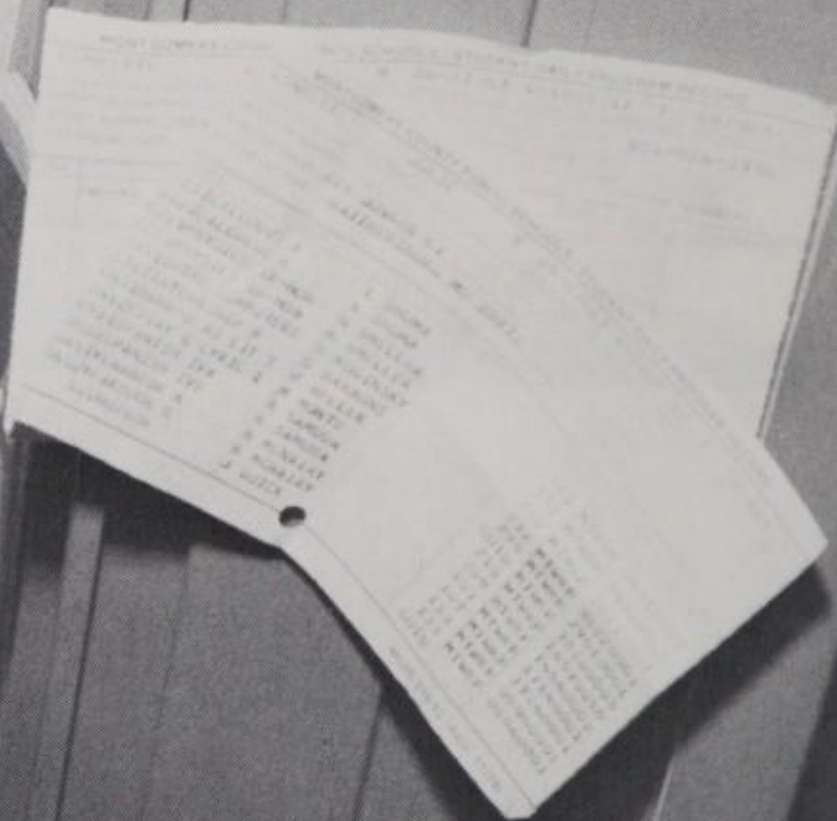

My first friends were the teachers, some of the teachers, that is. They were so very kind and tried to help me with my work. I did meet some teachers, though, that didn't care if I understood what they were saying or not.

As the year went by, I began to learn the ways of Seneca and the American English better. I made some friends, but there were people who hated me just because I was an African. I gave everything to God. Two years went by and in my Junior year I made many friends. I finally became part of the school. I started attending games, meetings and even the homecoming dance. I even found myself defending the school!

I am a Senior now and the manager of the Boutique. My teacher, Mrs. Vance, left me in charge when she was out sick. I have fallen in love with this school and will miss it very much. I would like to give thanks to God, who made all this possible, and to all the teachers and my friends-especially Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. Rohrer, Mrs. Vance, Mr. Deitch, Christine D., Anne Marie M., Kim C., Karen C., Shelly B., and all the others.

When I go back to my country, I will have something to say about Americans. Someday, I want to come back and teach the students something about my country. As I said before, I will miss Seneca Valley and am glad to be apart of the class of '85. What I will always remember from this experience is that wherever a person goes, there will always be ignorant people.

ACADEMICS

1 Christy Schutner concentrates on the screen.

A Changing World

Seneca Valley is doing its part to help students be able to cope in our fast changing society. Computers are being used more and more in our world today. Seneca is helping us by offering computer classes. We have six of them. The students use Apple 11e computers and a variety of programs. They learn to write programs to direct the computer to do different tasks, as well as many other things.

Learning to use a computer is fascinating. It's hard to imagine all that they can be programmed to do. Soon everything in our lives may be computerized and we will be able to cope and use them to our advantage.

2 The machine that makes our life a little easier.

3 Steve Brown types his program into the computer.

1. Mrs. Flory was one of the guest speakers in Mrs. Sage's classes.

The English department went all out this year to make the classes as interesting as possible. They did a pretty good job, too. The teachers invited guest speakers to come and talk with the students. The speakers added a different view to the class and got the students involved in discussions.

When people visited occasionally and broke the routine of reading, doing vocabulary, and writing essays for a day, it made a refreshing change, and was very welcomed.

Who's Who In English?

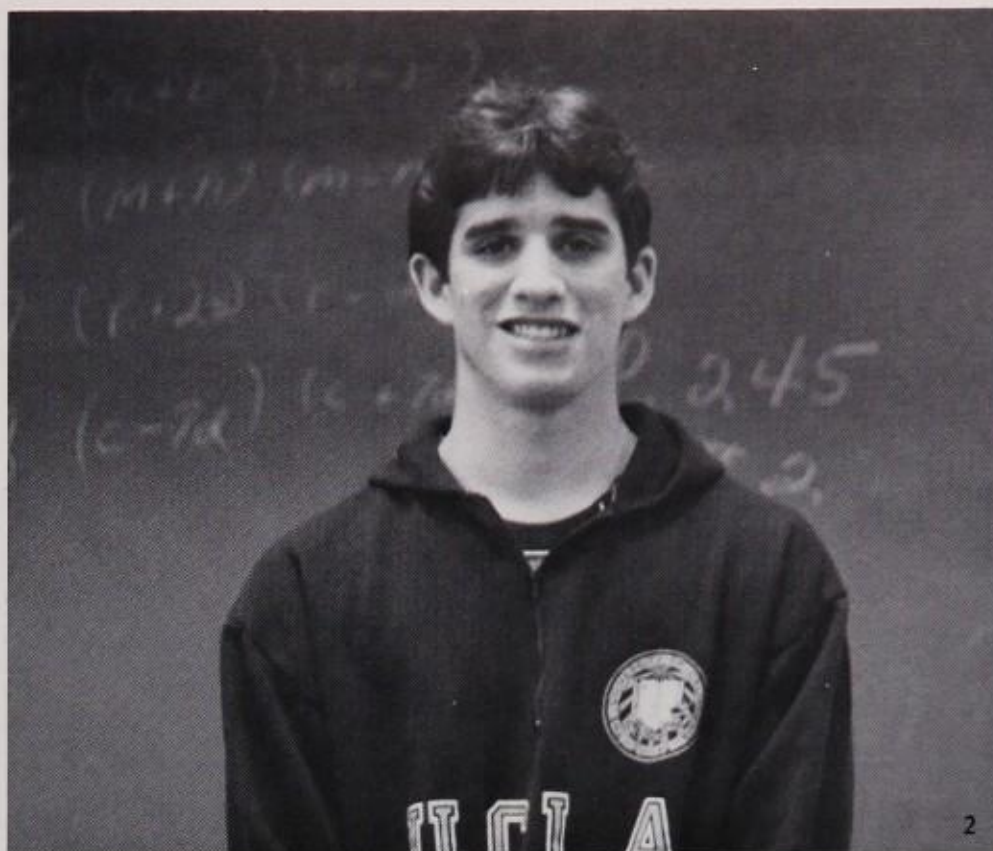

4. Sibbie O'Sullivan came from the University of Maryland and read some of the poems she had written.

3. Amy Cunningham shared her views with the English classes.

2. Pat Bond was a visitor for a day.

Those students having outstanding achievements in math are: Christi Diienno; Tom McAleavey; and Linda Fong.

The first of the three outstanding math students for the 1984-85 school year is Christi Diienno. Christi was a calculus student in Mrs. Shuma's class. She was a member of both the field hockey and soccer teams, as well as a member of the distinguished young scientists and the SGA. Her interests include sports, piano, sewing, and reading. Christi has received the distinguished Maryland student scholarship and she plans to attend the University of Maryland to study engineering. Tom McAleavey is the second outstanding achiever in math this year. Tom was an Algebra II/Trig student in Mrs. McNairy's class. He recently moved to the Gaithersburg area from Florida. He was a sophomore here at Seneca and also a member of the JV football team.

Linda Fong was an AP calculus student studying with Mr. Hudock. Linda has participated in several nationally ranked math competitions. She was a member of the Atlantic Pacific Math League, the Continental Math League, the Maryland Math League as well as the National Math League. Linda was a senior who plans to attend MIT, Stanford, or Harvard!

The Story Behind The News.

Shanti Parikh, Shira Katz, Mr. Weincek and Paul Lumbard doing the announcements.

You probably didn't realize all the work that went into bringing you the morning announcements. There were three different groups that worked to give you the news everyday. The purpose of all three was to get the announcements across to the students in a lively effective manner.

First semester, Monday through Thursday, the oral interpretation and media study class did the announcements. Besides reading literature and studying the fields of media, they got first hand experience on the P. A. system. The class coached and practiced the announcements before doing them in the morning.

Davey Marlin Jones was a guest speaker in the media classes.

Steve Clary and Mike Nadell do a check of sound quality.

Second semester, the announcements were done by the P. A. Club. P. A. Club consists of students who competed for the opportunity to do the morning announcements. There were six students chosen to be the "voices of Seneca Valley."

The third way you got the morning announcements was by the television production class. They were responsible for bringing you the televised morning announcements. They class got basic hands on experience on how television works. The students work in every facet of T. V. from working cameras to being on T.V. Besides producing the T.V. announcements every week, they work on several individual projects such as videos, comedies, and documentaries. They did a couple of specials like the Halloween show and Fast Eddie.

And you thought they just read.

Scott Boyd and Paul Lumbard get ready to tape.

Mr. Horvat helps Francis Schima with the sound equipment.

A typical cow's lung.

The main objectives of the Human Body Applied Science class is to learn more about your body in health and disease. We learn the anatomy and physiology of each of the symptoms and then explore the benefits of good health practices. We cover the types of diseases associated with each system as well as various treatments and prevention.

The Stuff We're Made Of!

Mrs. Cox uncovers the bone.

Mrs. Cox points out certain things on the lung, and how it relates to the human body.

There's the left ventricle!

Learning And Understanding It.

Mrs. Cox has some slightly ill onlookers as she holds up a leg bone.

In order to enable us to understand certain sections better, Mrs. Cox brought in a cow's heart, lung, and leg from her local butcher.

It was much easier to understand inflation of the lung when you could see it happening.

After trying to cut the cow's knee ligaments, we had a better idea of the damage that occurs during a knee injury.

It is easier to learn the path of blood through the heart and the sites of blockage of the arteries when you have a real heart to examine.

Kim looks on with interest as Mrs. Cox demonstrates with the leg.

The most important part in any body!

Stacy Moore asks Krisy Pay, "Can you find Carla's pulse?"

... helps keep the doctor away, or so they say. However, there are plenty of future doctors and nurses running around in health occupations.

The students learn the basics such as making hospital beds, sponge baths, taking blood pressure, and reading thermometers. Then, they go beyond the basics and learn CPR. They practice the resuscitation on the CPR dummies. The students also learn the Latin prefixes, suffixes, and root words for the medical terms that they need to know.

Health occupations is certainly a worthwhile course, even if you are not planning to go into medicine. The class gives you skills that are worth a lot no matter what profession you choose.

An Apple A Day . . .

Carla Prince groans in mock agony as Krisy Pay and Stacy Moore take her bloodpressure.

Lisa Burdette learns the art of giving a sponge bath.

Renee Maillet is making hospital corners.

How Many Languages Do You Speak?

1. Mrs. Malitz assists several students with their Spanish.

Seneca Valley's Foreign language department has two parts to it, ESOL (English for Speakers of Other Languages) and regular foreign languages.

ESOL is for non-English speaking students. They learn the language as well as the culture. This year ESOL represented nine different languages.

The other foreign language classes are elective courses in which students learn the language and the culture of the various nations that speak the language they are studying. At the end of the year several select students travel to different countries to learn more about their culture and customs.

2. Mr. Samuda's class celebrates the end of the nine weeks.

3. Mrs. Sullivan works with some members of the ESOL class: Minh Vu, Bao Ly, Robert Melikian, Armine Abrahamian, Sanjay Patel, Rosa Yeh, and Mark Tsai.

The Work Oriented Curriculum is a four year cooperative vocational education program for students who have potential ability as self sufficient wage earners. The program attempts to meet such students' needs by combining the teaching of basic skills with on the job experiences.

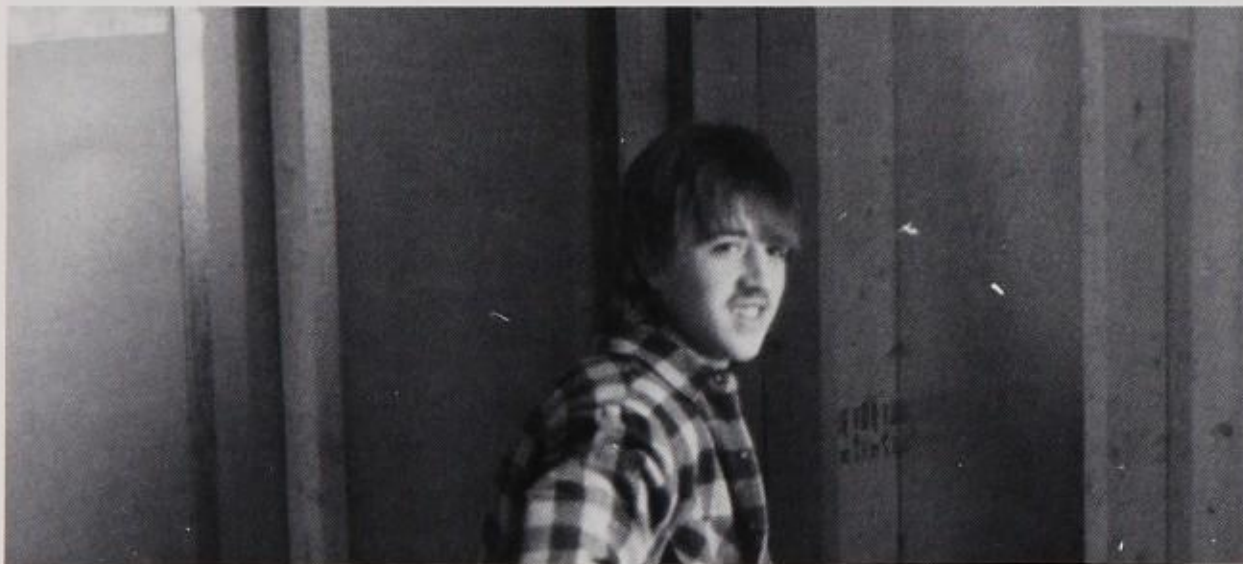

The Cooperative Office Education provides business education students a program of occupational instruction in business education subjects, occupational information, and job related skills.

A cooperative arrangement between the schools and businesses of the community provides training stations which enable the student to acquire work experience and training with experienced personnel. The student receives school credit for time spent on the job.

Work Outside Of School

The Work Programs Department at Seneca Valley consists of the Cooperative Work Experience- CWE, the Work Oriented Curriculum-WOC, and the Cooperative Office Education-COE. The goal of the programs is the development of both specific and general skills which facilitate upgrading on the job. Students develop understanding of the structure of business with emphasis on the employee's role as part of this structure.

The Cooperative Work Experience is a program of instruction designed to prepare students for entry into all basic fields of employment not covered by other specifically designated cooperative education programs.

There is more to social studies than memorizing names, dates, and other facts. It deals with people and the things that made them who they were. It tells about important happenings in our history that helped shape America and our policies as well as the rest of the world and it gives us the causes and results of these events.

Social studies provides us with an opportunity to study about other people in different parts of the world and all the problems they face. It gives us a chance to see how lucky we are to live in the United States and shows us how much we take for granted. Another thing that we take for granted is the terrific social studies department we have here at Seneca. They put a lot of time and effort to make the classes interesting and fun and they do a great job of it.

Academic Excellence

1. Mrs. McNairy explains the SSS postulate to her fourth period class.

Seneca Valley is known as the best school in the county. This is due not only to our domination in sports but also to the academic side of our school. The teachers here are extremely dedicated and put forth energy into teaching their classes. While the teachers deserve a lot of credit for all that they do, the students should also be recognized. They learned to balance sports, hobbies, work, and homework and still maintain Seneca's record of excellence.

Teacher, Teacher

We were fortunate to have had a staff so dedicated to their students. The teachers firmly believed that a good education builds a firm foundation. The faculty made themselves available during flex, after school, and during any planning period they may have had, to help any student who felt that he or she needed it.

Mrs. Bell worked hard to achieve better relationships between the students and the faculty. She succeeded admirably and improved the entire learning atmosphere.

Many members of the faculty are involved in extra-curricular activities which enable them to become better acquainted with their students and also to meet students who they don't teach. They are involved in varied activities from Drama to Sports to Academic Clubs. Whatever the faculty is involved in, be it teaching or an extracurricular activity, they give it their all.

Craig Weincek & Jude Oakey are just clowning around.

Those were the days . . .

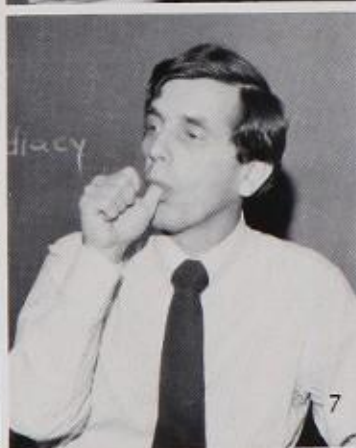

As a result of a minigrant, 12 Seneca Valley teachers were able to visit two high schools in the District of Columbia: Wilson High School and Cardoza High School. During their visits, the teachers observed teaching styles and techniques in the predominantly black classroom and brought back new ideas to apply to Seneca. This is just one example of the ways in which the teaching staff tried to improve relations in the classroom.

EXPRESSIONS

The Seneca Valley Staff

This year Mr. Scott of the Seneca Valley music department retired from teaching. He decided to leave after eleven years of leading chorus and music classes here at Seneca. His music has carried the Seneca Valley tradition of excellence and his ideals will be left in all the students he has encountered.

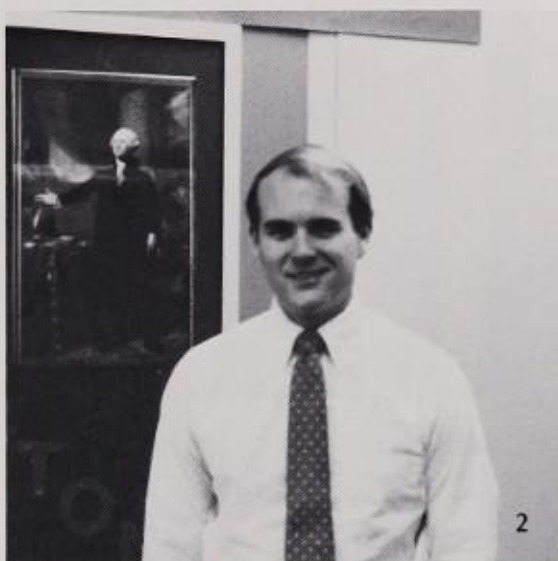

Since he was with the school from its opening in 1974, Mr. Scott found teaching here to be a great experience. He found the students to be enthusiastic and interesting. His most enjoyable moments here were during his coordination of "A Man of La Mancha" in 1982 and during the placement of the chorus in state competition where they scored ninety six out of one hundred points possible. We would like to wish Mr. Scott good luck in the future and hope that he will never forget those of us here at Seneca Valley.

A Time To Go

*It is time for us to go
For it is now our turn,
To leave these halls we've laughed
in,
These classrooms where we've learned.*

*As seniors, we're a family,
Together we have grown;
In search of new beginnings
Our destinies unknown.*

*We've shared so much together
In these, our high school years.
Happiness, fun, and laughter,
Sorrow, pain, and tears.*

*It's time for us to go now
Spread our wings and fly,
There's nothing we cannot do,
No goal nor dream too high.*

*So as we go our separate ways,
To make lives of our own;
It's each other we'll remember,
For together we have grown.*

Senior Class Officers: Tina Haba-Treasurer; Eric McDonald-President; and Patrice King-Vice President. Missing: Lynne Ange-Secretary. A round of applause for our officers for making this our best year, yet.

At one of many SGA parties, Brad Rosenthal, Courtney Clements, and Georgia Sullivan take five to munch out.

September of our sophomore year found us grouped together at orientation, trying to find classes and meeting our new teachers. As we became familiar with the halls of Seneca Valley, we concentrated on making new friends from the other feeder Jr. High's. Many of us took advantage of the new social life offered to us by attending football games, participating in extra curricular activities, and going to parties. We were caught up in the school spirit again with the arrival of B-ball season and an almost play-off season with the appearance of Spring, the musical Grease in which some of us starred, but most of us attended. Before we knew it, summer had arrived and it was time to leave S. V. for a blissful month.

The next year found us as Juniors; still making new friends and enjoying life at S.V. Football season came and went one more time. We were finally upperclassmen with only one more year to go. The year went by with homework and sports and drama as usual-but it was different somehow. We realized that we were no longer the butt of older students' jokes. We were the older students and we had sophomores beneath us. Sweet Charity was the year's musical and preparations for the performance occupied a lot of our extra time. Soon it was June again and time to relax for another summer.

Fall of 84 arrived and met us with many challenges. Now was the time to make decisions that would effect our lives to come. SAT results, class ranks, colleges, careers; they were all things that awaited us in our senior year. As scary as it was, we all made it, and are each off on our own way. Whether it's college or work or marriage- we've all got something exciting and challenging lying ahead of us outside the walls of old S.V.

 iaNa . . . I will like to thank the Lord and my parents and Mrs S, Mr B, Mrs R for all their help. I love them very much. I have been at Seneca Valley for three years but my senior year has been the best. I must say that being the Manager of Seneca outique, I have met a lot of nice and potential people. I am so happy to be graduating with the Class of 1985. I will miss this school and people who have helped me and cared about me.

Jay Arcarese

Jay spent his high school years letting his talent shine through. During that time he participated in Seneca's drama productions such as "Grease" and "A Christmas Carol." Jay is also very talented in music. He is proficient in playing both the piano and the trumpet. He has won numerous awards in competitions all over the state for his musical expertise. He has been a member of Seneca's band as well as the orchestra and Jazz Ensemble as well as the "Sweet Charity" Pit Band. Jay is also an Eagle scout in Boy Scouts, an honor only awarded to a few lucky people. Don't be surprised if someday you see Jay's name in lights.

Journey began small rural town. Landmark 1, wooden cross. transition: definitive suburb. Landmark 2, wall of granite. Climbed & Spaz was born in junk-ridden field. Crossing field not interesting, quickly over. Landmark 3, long row of functionally literate, immigrant coffee bean pickers w/farm implements. Cleverly overcome-disguise as them, Pick bushels of beans, run across field. Landmark 4, new, shopping mall blocking end of field. Trapped, back to wall, bean pickers running at me, waving hoes. Suddenly: machine gun shot across field f/behind me, leaving only dead bodies on field. Top of wall-woman in plaid skirt & blouse, holding smoking machine gun. She kicks rope ladder off roof. Threshold: I climb.

Rodney Butler

Courtney Clements

Courtney made good use of her time at Seneca and she was involved in many clubs and activities both in and out of school. She has been a member of the Md. Youth and Government Program all through high school.

Courtney played softball in 10th grade and volleyball for the past two years, earning her varsity letter this year. She has also proved invaluable to the Latin Team as their captain in 11th and 12th grade. In her sophomore and junior years she was a volunteer at the Asbury Methodist home. She was also a camp counselor for the 8th grade outdoor education program at MVJHS. Courtney has enjoyed all of the people she has met during high school and appreciates all the diverse activities here at Seneca.

Amy Rabb

Amy certainly earned her spot at the top of the senior class. Some of her many activities at Seneca included: student director of the S.V. Space Shuttle Team, features editor and photographer for the Talon (10th and 11th), member and organizer of the tutoring program, National Honor Society member, math team member and Distinguished Young Scientists. Amy has also won many honors and distinctions. She is a national Merit Semi-finalist, a Rensselear medalist (11th); Maryland State Distinguished Scholar and a Gaithersburg Jaycees Student of the Month, among many other things. Amy's hobbies range from photography to astronomy and she enjoys the many opportunities available at Seneca Valley.

Moving On . . .

Driving

The pride of S. V. seniors are their cars. Most of the senior class drive automobiles to school taking up 75% of the student parking lot yet, there are a few less fortunate who sit patiently waiting for family or friends to give them rides. Those who refuse to wait for a bus could always try the "sardine method," which is cramming as many people into a car as possible. Everyone in need of a ride crams into an available car, sitting on another's lap or crouched on the floor. With its bottom dragging along the ground, the little car puts out of the parking lot trying to keep up with the other traffic. The new afternoon announcement reads, "Students, start your engines!"

Aunts, Uncles, 3 cousins, the cousins I don't even like, etc. and playing Baseball.

Vickie W. Fang

July '84 at Kutztown. Once upon a time, Ted met Vic. How? Vic stole a sip of Ted's lemonade. (Romantic, eh?) After the dance, they went for a walk. They tried to read some Taiwanese magazines, but did not succeed. After getting pooped out, they sat on a bench & began talking about dissecting cats & dead squirrels. Now, Ted has this Caucasian friend named Jason & Vic has one named Julie. It worked out quite well. 1st, we played tennis & then we went to Jason's to listen to him play Beethoven & Barry Manilow on his trumpet. Jason & Julie mofed around in the basement while Ted & Vic talked about The Joy Of Cooking. Those Njans crack me up! The attic is full of treasured memories, eh? Hey! I left something in NJ! Hitting that '83 BMW 733i at Amelia's. Oops!

We've Come A Long Way

Chants of "Class of '85" were heard all throughout the school during one of the Senior's many successful class meetings. These were held in the Auditorium and they really spurred a sense of community among the graduating class, largely due to Eric McDonald's high level of Energy, combined with Patrice King's humor. Information about cap and gown orders, prom arrangements, fundraising, homecoming, Daytona and other activities would be discussed and presented to the students.

"I feel that class meetings are a very important part of school spirit. They can be a lot of fun if you go into them with the right attitude. My attitude toward them is a very positive one. I enjoy getting people to express their feelings and become involved."

on Nanto

Before coming to Seneca, Jon attended Pomona High School in Arvada, Colorado where he was on the Varsity Diving Team. He was ranked 2nd best at his school and 11th best in his county. He was also involved with the Yearbook staff, newspaper staff, and was chosen to be a "Yell-leader" at his school. However, before the "yell-leading" season began, Jon moved to Gaithersburg.

In spite of being a new student at Seneca, Jon became quite involved in extra-curricular activities during his junior year. He quickly became a member of the Dance Club, performed in Dance Shows, and performed in the 1984 spring musical "Sweet Charity." He was also a member of the Varsity Diving Team. Jon was ranked 3rd in the county and 7th in the metros for his diving.

In 12th grade, Jon became the first male cheerleader at Seneca Valley. He continued his activity in the Dance Club and also had a part in the Winter production of "A Christmas Carol"

When asked what Jon likes best about Seneca he said, "The fun and the sports program. I am also very pleased with the support of the student body for my being the first male yell-leader here. I feel like my school is proud of me and I am proud of it."

LAURICE CHOW

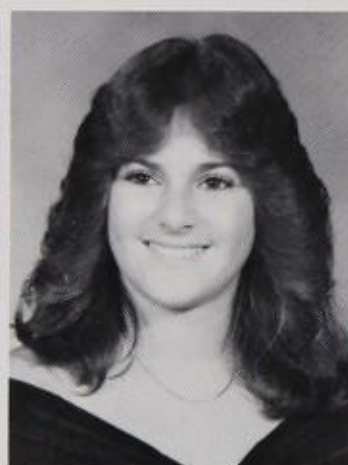

Laurice is a senior who has made the most of her years at Seneca. Not only was she actively involved in many extra-curricular activities, but she also received many awards for her academic achievements.

Laurice was one of the six semifinalists in the 1985 Merit Scholarship Competition. She was recognized as a Maryland State Distinguished Scholar and also received the Harvard Book Club Award.

In spite of her busy academic schedule Laurice found time to become involved with school and community related activities. She was in the Seneca Valley Marching/Concert Band for three years, as well as a member of the Montgomery County Junior Band and the Tien Yuen Youth Orchestra. She was also in the 1983 school musical stage crew and the 1984 Pit Orchestra. Among her other achievements were being a member of the It's Academic Team, the Space Shuttle Team, the Math Team, the Talon staff, and the Literary Magazine staff.

Rajwant Jolly

Happy Wednesday and greetings to you all. These are the memories of Rajwant Singh Jolly. I have many great remembrances of my life at Seneca Valley High School. One that sticks out in my mind more than any other is my physics class taught by the famous Ashok K. Goel. Brian and I really loved when he wore his festive blue and red polka dot tie. One of the greatest thrills I had at Seneca was being a part of the tennis team. It was alot of fun. Thank you Mr. Deitch for all the fun and encouragement over these years. Flash, legs, SJ, Mr. CCC, BJ, Kirk, Lud, Gamete man, Mr. Genesis, Capt. Video . . . Once there was a young man who went to Seneca. He was a nice, shy kid who knew many great friends and Loretta (kidding). He ran varsity cross country-winter/spring track and had one of the most wonderful experiences in his life. He said he was from Indiana, but that, along w/aliases like Flash, legs, etc., was only a front. The real Jeff was taken at age 16 and replaced by an insane, but clever, double: He fit in-went to N.Y., Genesis & Zapa concerts, movies, parties. But all the time he was studying everything about you, waiting to strike. If you see him, be nice to him-niceness and pretty girls are his weaknesses! Just hope he goes to college!! Love ya all!!

Alias Scumbucket, alias scum, alias God. You have been brought here to determine your eligibility for parole from the Seneca Correctional Facility. Your record shows us that you have associated with known members of organized crime (Don Antonio) and known subversives (JM, alias softy). You were involved with an escape attempt on 11/30/84 w/ AR and JM and rumors like you with the publication of subversive literature (PM+D or OUA.T.O.S). Association w/ JL has led to the creation of Biological theories (Theory of Mutation, etc.). You are also known to be the leader of the Seneca Liberation Front. Parole denied. Any comments? - "See you next year." Don't do it, you'll regret it- who cares! do it anyway- Do cvedaneyal!

Class Ranks

When the class ranks arrived, seniors ran eagerly to the cafeteria, only to wait expectantly in line with other students. The expressions on their faces were some of dissapointment and some of relief. While some students talked of going to Duke or M.I.T., others were saying, "Look out M.C., here I come."

Parties

As the week went by and Friday night approached, Seniors were busy making plans to go out. Excited voices could be heard as news of a party filled the halls. If there wasn't a private party planned, the seniors would make sure to plan one so that the weekend would not pass without excitement. Walking out the auditorium doors Friday afternoon, someone would be sure to say, "Hey! Did you hear about Joe's party?"

A Unique Experience

At the beginning of the '84 school year, the Seniors settled back into their 12 year old schedule, only this time with a sense of excitement. "Only one more year! No one to laugh at us because we're underclassmen! Every one finally has his license! Daytona and prom!" These were thoughts that ran through every Seniors mind in September. By October, though, the realization of college really hit. The panic started with PSAT's and trying to prepare for the "big test". As soon as that worry was past class ranks were given out, to the general dismay of the students. Next came SAT's and ACT's which started on November third, with classrooms full of anxious students, trying to "ace" the entrance exams. When test scores were received, students wondered about which college, if any, to choose from. This brought into play applications, interviews, transcripts, and financial seminars. Around this time, the thoughts of Daytona and prom came back. The entire year's hassles of paperwork and selling seemed worthwhile, however, when students who received those glorious letter of acceptance. Then it was goodbye S.V., hello Campus Life!!!

Class Officers

The officers for the Junior Class were: President-Aluanda Drain; Vice-President-Kristen Albers; Secretary-Kim Fultz; and Krista Tammaru was the Treasurer. These officers have put in many hours of hard work to make our class one of the best ever!

They have successfully carried out many activities so far this year. This includes a car wash at the Gaithersburg Fire Department, a raffle, and the selling of patron ads in the basketball programs. Our class exclusively has had the opportunity to sell these advertisements. Most of the money from these ads will go to our class treasury which will help pay for our class trip in 1986. The other activities mentioned above will also contribute money to our treasury. With any luck, we may be able to go to Jamaica or the Bahamas. Our President, Aluanda Drain, said, "I don't know about you, but I would really like to go to one of the Caribbean Isles."

A lot of work was put forth during Homecoming week. The Juniors placed second in the halls and second in the floats. With the activities they planned, the junior treasury is growing fast. THANKS to the Junior Class of officers we're on our way to a fantastic senior year!

The Junior class officers this year were (l-r) Krista Tammaru-Treasurer Kristen Albers-Vice President, Aluanda Drain-President and Kim Fultz-Secretary.

Senioritis One Year Early

Although we the class of 1986 take much pride in our school a great number of us wish that we were finished with our high school careers. We really love the Screaming Eagles but we can't deal with algebraic equations or identifying sentence structure. Many of us really love seeing our friends everyday and socializing with them, but when it comes to sitting down to work we start to daydream about what life will be like after graduation. But for now all that we can do is wait for our turn to come.

1. Annee Gillett and Tina Swanson dress up for Halloween.
2. Mark Swaim enjoys a nutritious lunch.
3. Shanita, Shellie, and a friend spend the night cheering the Eagles on to victory.
4. Jeremy and Eugene wait in line to get a snack.
5. John, Courtney, Brent, and Robert give the camera their tough look.
6. Eric Rosen watches the world go by as he sits at the lunch table.

Taking Time Out

Taking time out from studies is a favorite pastime for many of us at Seneca Valley. Our first time out of the day arrives at our ever-loved flex. Flex is a time to catch up on all the new gossip, laugh with friends, get a bite to eat, and in some cases a last minute chance to complete homework. But flex seems to end as soon as it starts, and friends would have to wait, and save their stories for another time, usually lunch.

Lunchtime at Seneca is an event not to be missed. Long lunch lines, people constantly coming and going, but most of all, FUN! Laughter is a familiar sound to our cafeteria, and to the students. Once again it was time to socialize with friends and catch up on the day's happenings. Taking time out is an everyday occurrence in a day of the life of an Eagle.

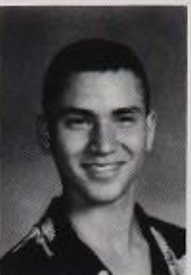

1. Beth Gilliland pauses to smile for the camera.
2. Chrissy, Amie, and Aileen have an in depth conversation at lunch.
3. Mike Brady notices that he is being watched.
4. Martin, Paul, and Danny try to find something edible on the lunch line.

Soaring Spirits

Spirit soared high in the junior class. Enthusiasm could be detected at football games where juniors "rocked" the bleachers. A special electricity charged the air during Homecoming Week, when the juniors showed their spirit by wearing everything from hats and shades to trashbags. "This year there was a lot more spirit during the Homecoming festivities than in the previous year," said one junior enthusiast. The enthusiasm did not end with football games; it continued into the basketball season and throughout the rest of the year.

Class Of '86

As Juniors, the class of '86 felt a little more confident about themselves and the events which occurred at Seneca Valley every day. We could easily locate where we needed to be, not like last year, when we entered Seneca as Sophomores, and were completely lost. We were acquainted with both students and staff, which made our life as juniors just a little easier. We had finally earned acceptance, that for many was a constant battle only a year before. By this year, we had learned to adjust to getting up and 6:00, homework, endless telephone calls that last forever, and the one million other things that are part of a junior's life.

Also as Juniors, we face many decisions in approaching our final year. We begin to prepare for college by taking both our PSAT's and SAT's. Then, it's time to start looking at colleges. Soon the time rolled around to order class rings, a major event in the life of a junior. A class ring brings to many juniors a sense of being "officially" in high school. During their junior year, many students get their driver's license, and another sense of accomplishment is gained. For many, it is the first year to drive to school, and for others their junior year is only one step closer to a license.

There is also that excitement that begins to build up towards the end of the year. That impending thought of being on top, and not being pushed around or picked on anymore. By the time Spring Break rolls around, the juniors are so psyched up for their senior year that we begin to show our spirit excessively. Now, as the seniors leave to graduate, we juniors, without a second thought, take the role of being number one. Which, by the way, is a role we've learned so well.

Coming of Age

This year the class of '86 moved up one more rung on the high school ladder. This means that some members of our class have left their junior varsity sports to play varsity. This also means that the cheerleaders get to cheer for the varsity players, who get to play at better times in front of more adoring Eagle fans.

Becoming a junior also sets you in a different state of mind. You are no longer just a kid, you're a young adult who will be thrust into the real world in a few short years. Many of us in the class of '86 will choose a fine establishment of higher learning and continue to get an education that will carry us on our way through later life.

Hopefully, many of us will realize that we are nearing an important time in our lives and get themselves together so they may obtain all they want for themselves in the future.

5. Heroot Hakopian on the rise.
6. Haven't you had a good day, Matt Khodadad?

Juniors

Life's Tough

It is not a breeze going to school everyday as your parents would try to make you believe. So, the next time your parents tell you that you've got it easy compared to them, remind them of a few facts. You get up as early as they do in the morning, most of you ride dirty buses, and you are going to learn! You're facing a new challenge everyday. It is much harder to grasp a new concept each day than it is to do something you've been doing for years. So be proud of yourself for meeting new challenges everyday and still coming out mentally healthy.

2. Rodney Mohr gets a few hints from Mrs. McNairy.

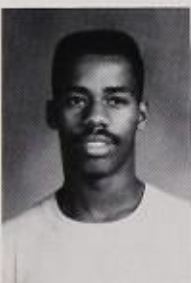

As summer came to a close, we all wished that our vacation would never end. But then on September fourth when the first bell rang we thought to ourselves, "This isn't so bad." We realized that with a promising new school year, we could expect many new experiences. We would see old friends and meet new ones as well. The classes and teachers we had last year would all be changed around. Knowing that many new and terrific things were in store for us made facing another year of education not as bad. Also, becoming juniors helped our outlook on school. We didn't have to worry about going to a new, unfamiliar school. This year we feel like we belong here at Seneca, we don't feel like newcomers or outsiders. We have established ourselves as veteran Eagles. By the end of this year our wishes will have probably changed and we will not want summer to come or the school year to end.

The Long Haul

This year has seen an increase in traffic in the halls between classes. Perhaps some people are too sensitive, but many people think that it is rude to stand and talk in a group in the middle of the hall while other people have to push and shove to get around. Even though those people who get slowed down in a traffic jam may make it to class on time it is still really irritating to have to stand behind a group of girls talking about the color of their nail polish when you could be getting some last minute studying done for your killer trigonometry test. These inconsiderate people who don't keep things moving in the tight hallways also add to the problem of tardiness by waiting until the bell rings to break up their little groups and let people through to get to class. If anyone ever had to go to their locker on the other side of the school and back in between classes they know that it is a physical impossibility. These people should keep moving in the hallways so that the rest of the student body doesn't get fed up and start a riot.

Juniors

Someone famous once wrote that your youth was supposed to be the best time of your life. I think that our class of '86 has got the right idea. Many Juniors are making their high school days the best time of their life by getting into some of the various activities or groups here at Seneca Valley and outside of school. Many Juniors have a good time by joining a sports team or cheerleading while even more just like the excitement while watching those teams play. Those Juniors that are not athletically inclined still find that Seneca Valley is an exciting place to be and that there is more to Seneca than sports. They join groups like the newspaper staff or one of the foreign language clubs. Outside of school we Juniors spend a lot of our time at parties where we have good, clean fun. Since music is a major interest of many students here at Seneca, we also enjoy going to concerts like Bruce Springsteen, Prince, or U2. Whatever they do for a good time the Juniors are making their stay at Seneca Valley one of the best times of their life.

As we all know, as Juniors, our social life revolves around Seneca Valley and it's halls. For many, coming to school is not a task, but more like a time to see friends—old or new, and a place to have a little fun. But for others, Seneca Valley is just another school. With more hassles, and more work. As always, the good out does the bad, and we all know that Seneca is "The Pride of the Valley."

Seneca Valley is a varitable "melting pot" of teenagers. Youths from different backgrounds, and even different countrys, come to school sporting outfits that show eaches individual style.

One of these variations is the country style. People wearing soft, comfortable jeans, flannel shirts and casual T-shirts. Groups such as Alabama, Hank Williams, Jr., and Statler Bros., can be heard in common conversation among the "country" teens and their friends.

Next are the "new wavers." The "new wavers" and "punks" have often been confused, but they are very different. New wave teens wear bright electric colors and sports tails hanging form their heads. popular bands among new wavers are Frankie goes to Hollywood, Tears for Fears, Cyndi Lauper, etc.

The "punks" in Seneca are few but closely knit. Punks wear Black and grey. Costume jewelery can be seen on "punk" girls arms. Spiked and colored hair is a trademark among "punks" also. Groups heard of in "punk" circles are Iron Cross, Violent Femmes, Exploited, anm a new up and coming band called Phlegm.

The First Year Of School As A Sophomore

On Sept. 4, 1984 many sophomores picked up their new notebooks and sharpened pencils ready to go and start their first day in a new high school. After a deep breath (and of course at least an hour of primping) they are ready to enter the huge high school. What a change Seneca Valley would be for them. With a detailed map in one hand and a worried look on their faces they patrol the school and all of their classes. The sophomores soon got their act together as shown during "spirit week". Many sophomores had fun decorating the sophomore hall and float. During spirit week the class of "87" cheered along with the rest of the eagle crowd at the homecoming pep rally. They also held up their school spirit by dressing up for each theme day. To finish up spirit week, the sophomores had fun riding in their decorated float at the football game. Many sophomores commented that if everybody had not worked together, our spirit week would not have been a success.

Our hard working sophomore officers were (clockwise) Mrs. Burman (sponsor), Penny Walker (secretary), Porsche Plummer (president), Leslie Pope (vice-pres.) and Theresa Raczek (treasurer).

Rick Brown shows his talent playing the trumpet during band class.

The first year of high school for many can be somewhat of a nightmare. But for the class of '87 it promises to be the best year ever. Many sophomores interviewed said that they were a little frightened to come to a school as large as Seneca but on the first day of school they felt welcome and part of the school. The school spirit and pride that the students show for Seneca Valley proves that it really is the BEST high school.

Season Ends In A Bang!!

1. After a hard game, the team celebrates in their victory.
2. Steve Taylor gets his opponent out on third and saves the game.

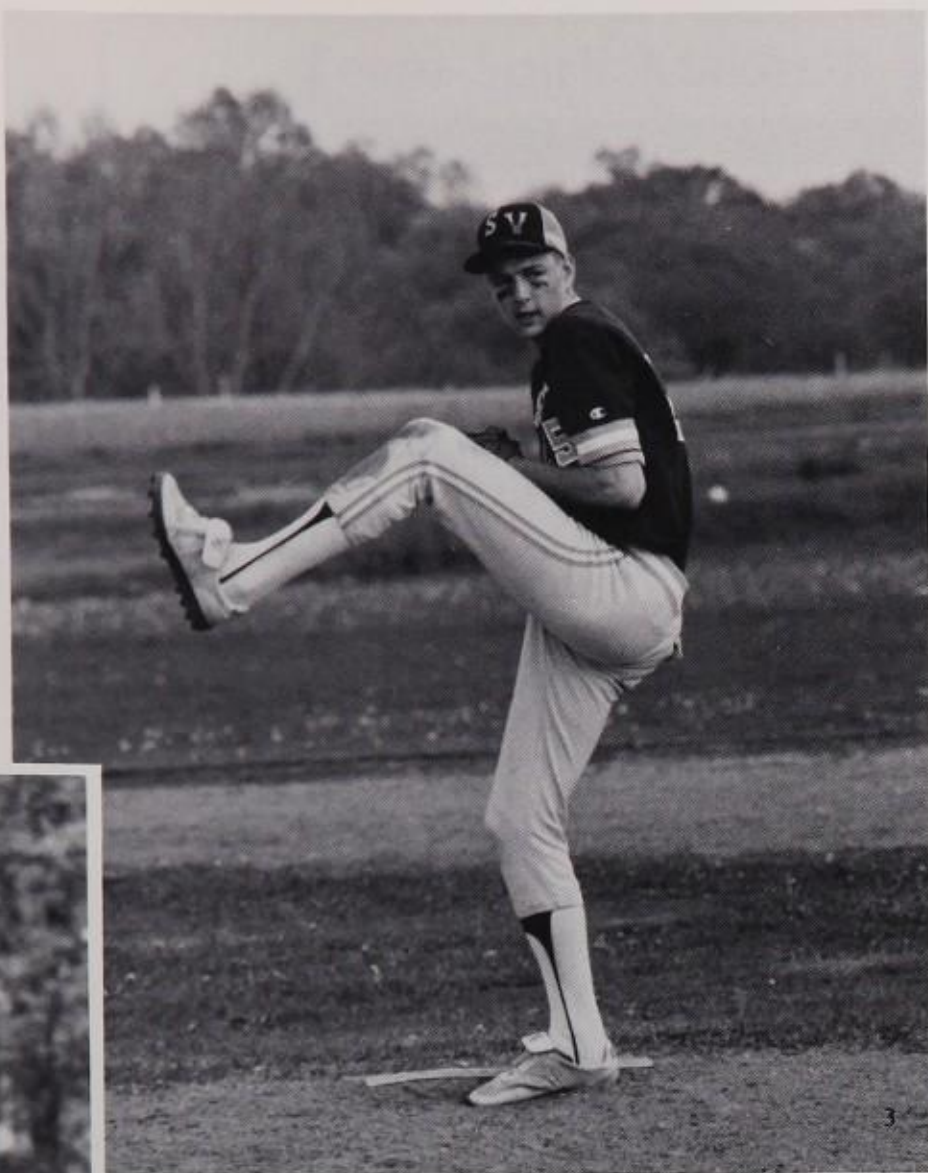

Varsity Baseball had one of the best seasons even with a record of 12-5. They took the last seven regular season games, and beat Springbrook in the playoffs. It took skill and determination from the whole team to make it the winning season it turned out to be. The coach of the team, Mr. Long said "After a slow start the team really came on at the end of the season and went to the AA Regional Championships." In a close game they lost to High Point at the Regionals.

The captain of the team was Steve Taylor, and co-captain was Andrew Kornreich. Named most valuable was, Andy Malloy. The lead pitcher and hitter was Randy Ramsey and Troy Plummer.

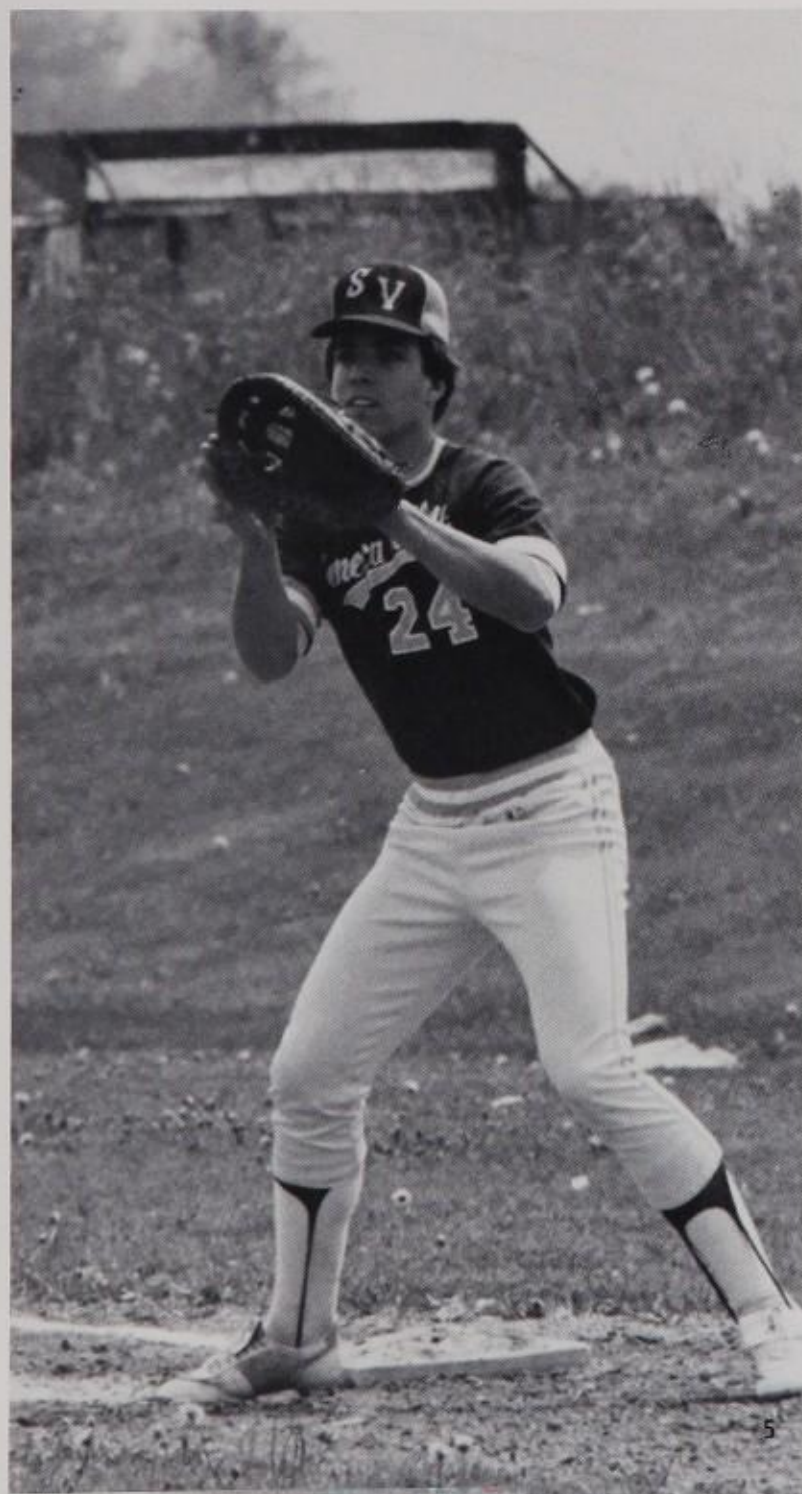

Even with the teams ups and down, they never seemed to lose the spirit and determination common at Seneca Valley.

Team Spirit Makes It Through Hard Times.

It was a hard season for the J.V. Softball team, at least that's what the scoreboard said, but there was more to their season than that. Team spirit, determination and a camaraderie was formed between the girls. A lot of skills were developed along with some promising new talent for the next year. Among this talent was Michelle Saunders, Co-Captain, who showed leadership and dedication; Shiela Spangler, who was very dedicated and was an excellent pitcher for the team this year; and finally Tracy Lutz, who was the team's catcher.

The team was led by their captains, Michelle Saunders and Vicky Ulich. They said that the team was looking forward to a great season due to the knowledge and experience gained this season.

1. Michelle Saunders stands ready in left field.
2. The team shows their closeness and team spirit

Hard Work And Husle Pays!

This years V. Softball team's spirit beat the odds. Mr. Barnhart, coach, explains "To me a 10 and 6 record is pretty good considering that the newspaper and the other coaches believed that this would be the year to beat Seneca Valley! Well, it just didn't happen that way, and the kids deserve all the credit. Hard work and hustle will come out on top every time."

Mr. Barnhart was right and the teams winning season proves it. Even though the young team lacked experience, the made up for it with enthusiasm.

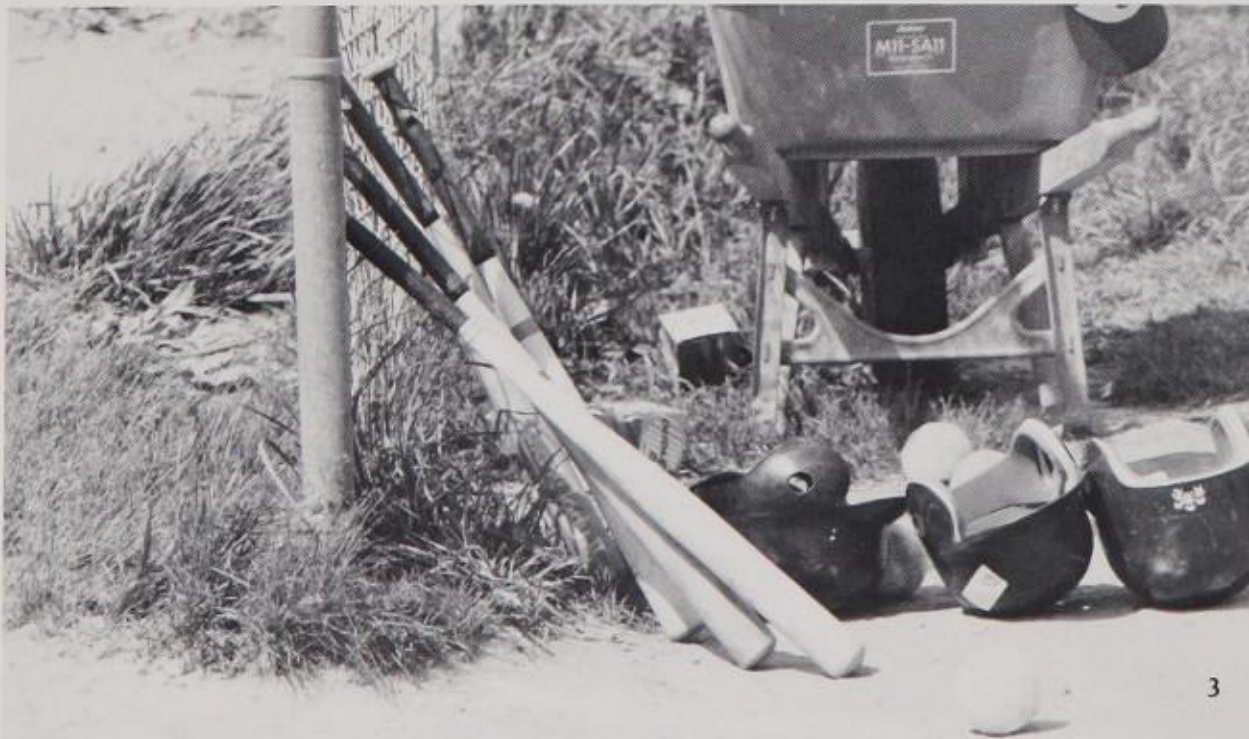

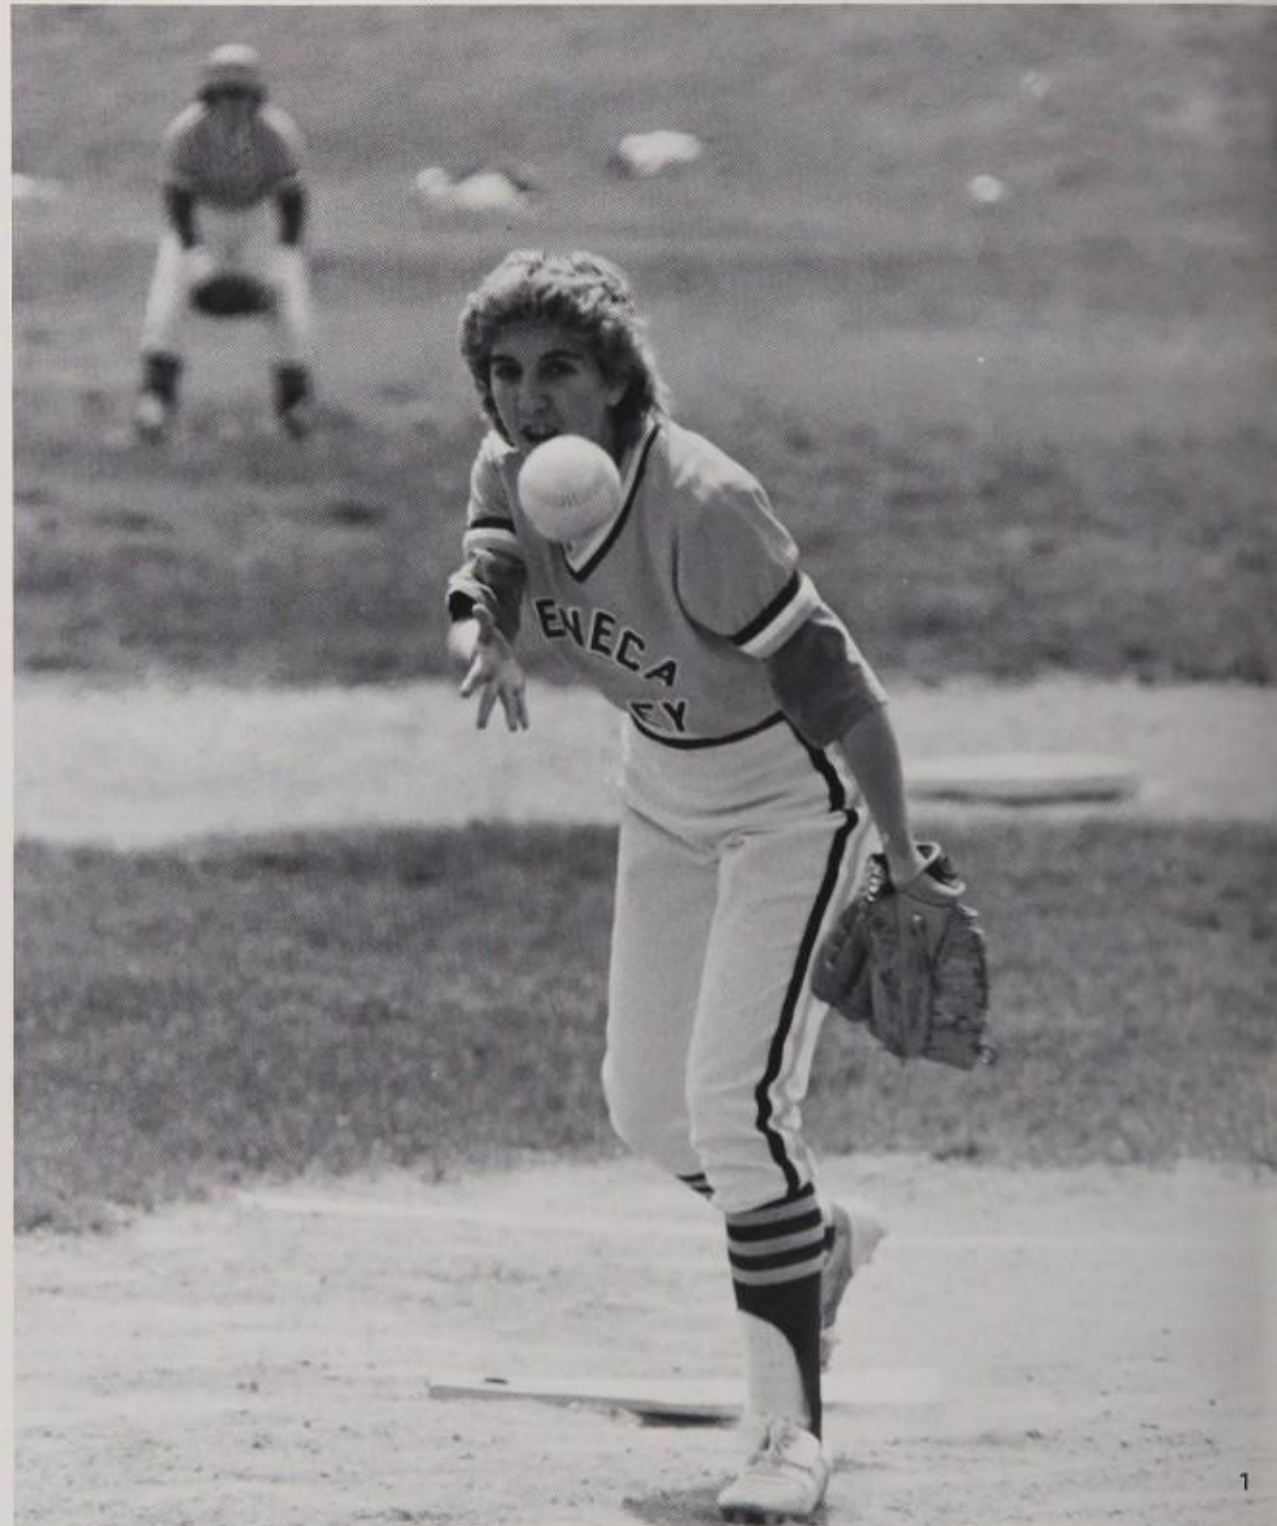

The team was lead by their captains Julie Lauricella, Amy Feldman and Gina Angelo. Also, the team named Krista Fisher the MVP. Gina Angelo said the remaining players are looking forward to a great season next year.

The Family

1. Anne Meyers jumps to set the ball up.
2. Henrey Daufeldt and Joe Kemp block the ball at the net.

The Varsity Co-Ed Volleyball team ended a tough season with a 6-6 standings. The team worked like a family, had fun, and got along well. All these important aspects made it a season to remember. Anne Meyers and Henry Daufeldt were named MVPs and captains were picked each game by the coach Mrs. Greisler.

"The team was very competitive and was complemented by every coach and referee throughout the season," said Mrs. Griesler "Every team member, whether first string or not, added their own special touch to make our team a winning one!"

Although it was the first year of J.V. Co-Ed Volleyball, it turned out to be a success, not necessarily on the score board, but from the simple reason that they had added a new team to the long list of athletic teams at Seneca Valley. Their final standings were 3-5. Thana Nga Burrell and Richard Daufelt led the team in scoring, and Larry Orth had such a good season that he moved up to Varsity. "The positive aspect of our team was definitely our enthusiasm," said coach, Sally McNaughton. She enjoyed working with a team that had such good athletic skills and drive to succeed.

Pursuing Individual Excellence

Many teams go through a rebuilding period and this was the case with the 1983-84 Seneca Valley Track Team. Seneca Track, known in Montgomery County as one of the dominating forces, fell this year due to lack of interest.

Although the numbers weren't there, the dedication and drive to excel of those participating was the same as that of a large team. Mr. Robertson, coach of Spring track, best sums up the major goal of the team "as to pursue individual excellence."

Pursuing individual excellence is just what the team did by qualifying three runners in the state meet. Sean Carpenter, representing the boys team, qualified in the 400 meters. While competing for the girls was Kim Dorio in the 800 meters and Paige Pawlak running the mile.

Spirit Holds Team Together

Plagued with injuries this year, the girls soccer team got off to a rocky start losing their first three games. Finally they came to life in the fourth game tying a tough Whitman team. First year coach Mr. Palkovic felt the team played well together due to the fine leadership of seniors Sara Garcia, Polly Bryan, Rainey Counihan, Laura McTaggart, and Monica Jennings.

The girls ended the season with a record of 3-8-1. The team seemed pleased with their performance feeling they played the best to their abilities. Mr. Palkovic, along with the returning players, are enthusiastically looking forward to next season.

Determination Renders A Winning Season

Led by captain Mike Ho and Co-captain Steve Brown, the boys tennis team finished their season with a record of 6-5. The boys played the teams they beat well and with authority. The players worked hard this year and were very supportive of each other. Mr. Deitch, coach of the tennis team, is looking forward to a great season in 1985.

Spirit In Action

The Seneca Valley girls tennis team finished the season with a 3-9 record. The team, composed of four singles players and three double teams, was led by the playing of number one singles Patsy Vener and number two, most valuable player, Luanne Sandburg. Leading the team in doubles were Seniors Nadine Komes and Christy Schucter.

Coach Richardson says "Winning isn't everything," and was very happy with the all-round performance and looks forward to next year.

Hard Work Pays Off

The Field Hockey Team impressed everyone this year with their best season yet. They finished with a record of 8-4 in the regular season and one win and one loss in the state regionals.

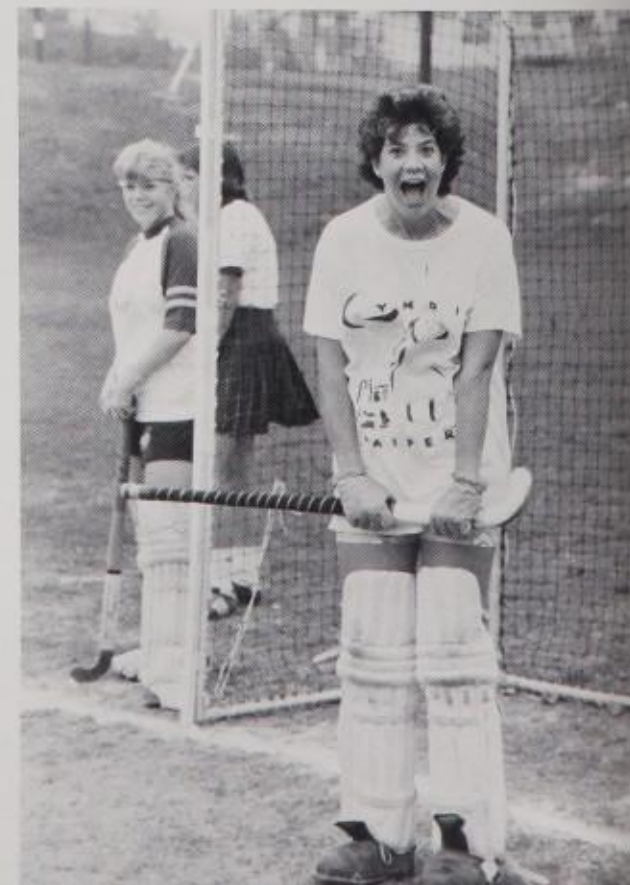

Winning to Springbrook and Whitman were definite ups for the season, as was the team being seated first in the state regionals, AA division.

"The team made steady progress as the season went on and for the most part played an aggressive season," says Coach, D. Mattes.

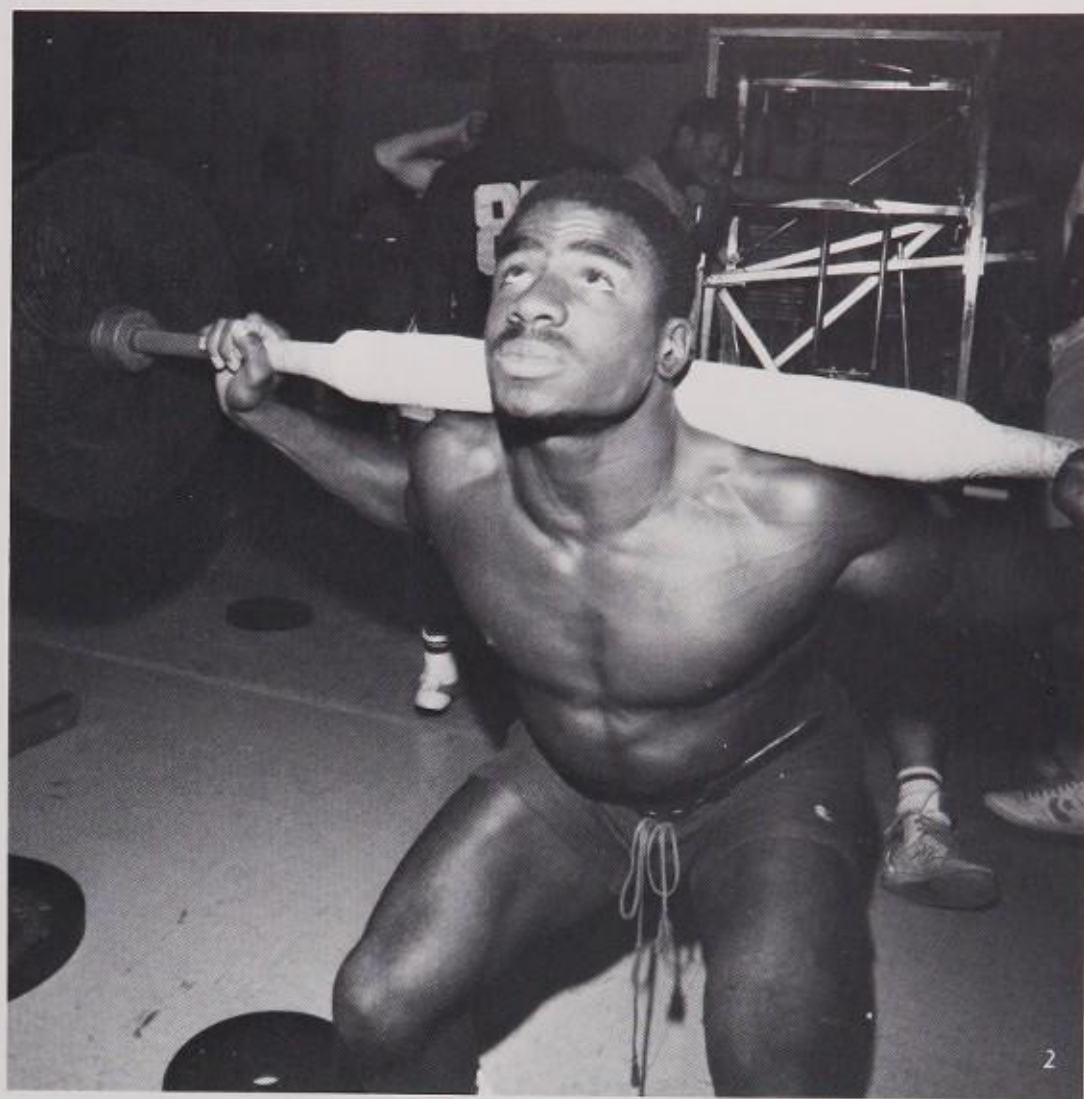

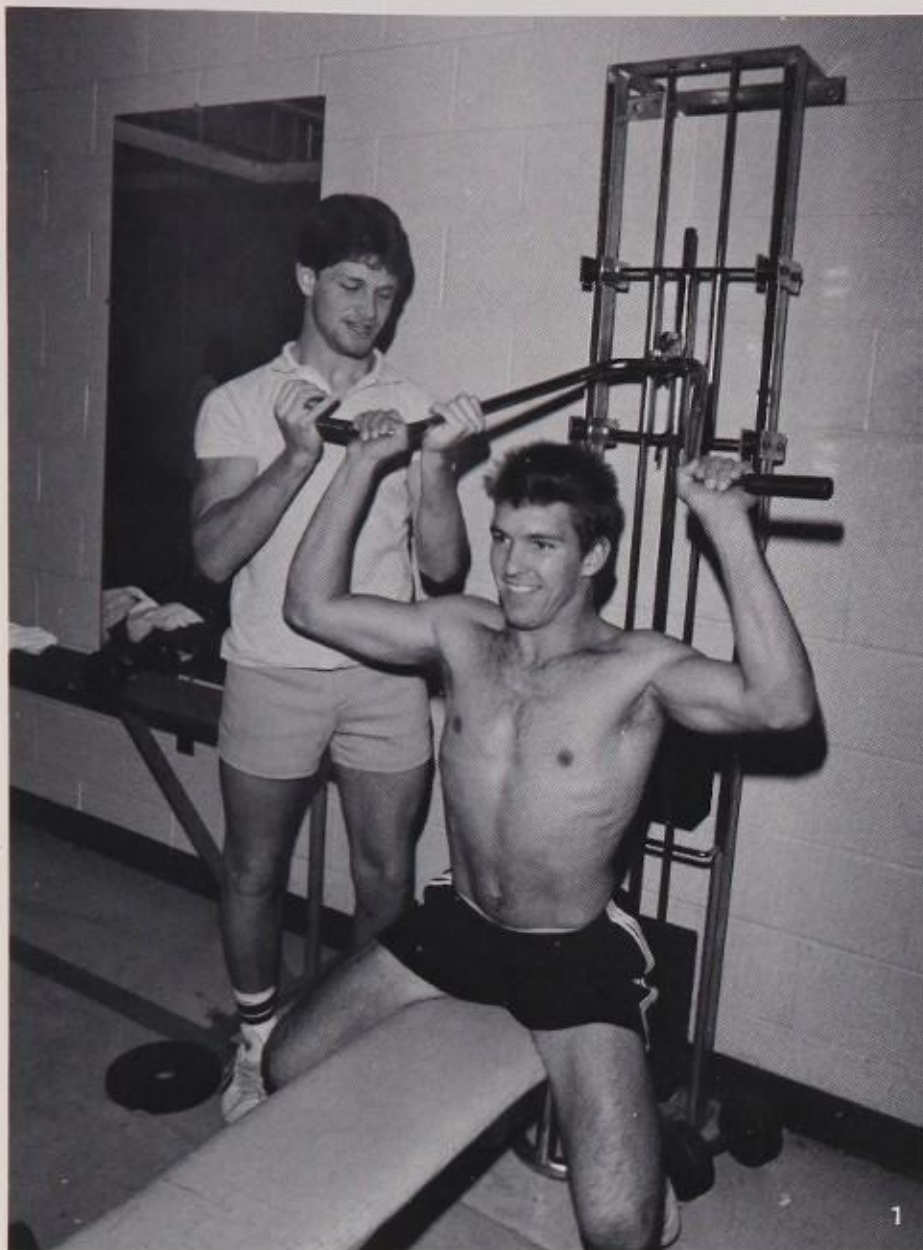

Everyone had an excellent season, including Beth Abbott who led Montgomery County in field goals scored while Cathy Rempe placed fourth.

No Pain No Gain

No pain no gain is the motto used by the dedicated weight lifters at Seneca Valley. Not only do the football players go through the rigorous and tiresome task of lifting weights but many other athletic teams as well as teachers and those who just want to look good can be found pumping iron in the weight room.

The weight room is well equipped with the standard universal system and different various free weights. In order to look good and stay in shape these people pay the price in strain and sweat.

Enthusiasm Makes A Winning Season

The Varsity Football Team had what we, the students, considered to be a great season. It was a disappointment, however, to the team especially the seniors who had hoped to go to state this year. Though they ended the season with a record of 7-3, the general consensus was that they were good enough to win it all.

The three games we did lose were heartbreakers. We lost to Springbrook 10-7 on the last play of the game after missing a field goal and having a touchdown called back. We lost 7-0 to Kennedy with another touchdown having been called back. We lost to Gaithersburg in overtime after having an 18-0 lead at halftime.

There were some highlights of the season: The first came when we beat previously unscored against Churchill 6-2. They were ranked #2 in the Metro area. We finished the season with convincing wins over AA teams Whitman and Wootton.

Captains Jeff Hoes, Andy Malloy, and Kevin Wilkes will all be missed as well as the 16 other Seniors who were the backbone of the team. They will be missed not only for their athletic abilities but also for the great leadership and character they have shown for the past three years. Jeff Hoes will long be remembered as the school's first 1000 yard rusher. Good Luck in the future, Eagles!!

Skill, Determination And Spirit . . .

Junior Varsity Football ended the season with a 3-6 record, and wins over Churchill and undefeated Kennedy. It was a long, tough season for all, but the team never gave up in practice or in the games, no matter what the outcome. After losing to Springbrook 7-6 in the last seconds, and to Walt Whitman 12-10 on the last play of the game, the Eagles held together for what was a great experience, especially to those players going on to varsity. One of the best things to come out of the season was "to see the improvement of Jeff Kaplin, Tory Battle, James David, Kim Walker, and Sam Ladd," said Coach Doane. Named as most valuable players were Mark McCabe, Ricky Ficklin, Darin McCabe, Richard James, Jim Signora, and James Davis. The team captains were Jim Signora, Richard James, and Darin McCabe.

Constant Drive

Boys J.V. soccer ended a tough season with a record of one win, nine losses and two ties. Though they started with a good record in the pre-season and a good start in the first four games, they continued to go down hill after this. The team suffered many injuries throughout the season, and lost many key players through promotions to Varsity. The competition was also quite fierce. Says Coach Palkovic,

"It's very difficult to cope with the disappointment of an optimistic start followed by a let down, so the progress during the season was also disappointing too." Those players that continued to work hard in spite of this are to be commended. Outstanding contributors to the team were Hung Tam, Norman Grant, J.D. Calhoun, and Ben Whitehouse.

Varsity Soccer had an exciting and competitive season, but unfortunately ended the year with a final score of one win and ten losses and a tie.

The team spirit and constant effort was evident in each game.

"We were competitive in every game we played. Six of the games we lost by only one goal," says Coach Hudock.

The team stuck together all season, even through the injuries of Mark Shane and Jerry Habarth. Anyone who came to the games was witness to a clean, fast paced game. Some of the ups and downs of the season were that they gave up an average of a goal per game, but scored less than one goal per game. The captains of the team were Jay Midgley, Jeff Poland, and David Frey. Named most valuable player was Jay Midgley.

Golf Takes State!

This year's Golf Team was the strongest Seneca has seen yet. They finished with a final record of 19-1 and a first in the State Tournament. The top four players were Clare Dolan, Ed Dolan, John Nelson and Steve VanZutphen, with David Gularson and Randy Barnes as alternates. The State Tournament was a fantastic display of talent. This talent was evident through the entire season.

"The team was very close, like a family. They supported and helped each other. The team had strength and depth, and that's what made this season a success!" says Coach Turnbull. There were some disappointing moments. These came when the undefeated team lost the last match of the regular season and when they lost the County Championships by one stroke. All in all, this team's success was one they and Seneca can be proud of.

Sports Spotlight

"Clare is the best golfer I've ever had. Shes unselfish, works hard and her main goal coming into the season was to bring the State Championship back to Seneca". This is what Coach Turbull was quoted as saying by the journal.

Clare's personal accomplishments reached far. Her long list of achievements include winning the PGA National Jr. Championship, placing second in the North-South tournament, making the All American team, being ranked in the top three in the nation for her age group by Golfers Digest, nad quaifying for the Jr. World Championship.

Clare has been playing for many years and she improves yearly. Clare's lowest score for this year is a 70.

A Tough Season

Girls Varsity Volleyball ended a tough season with a 0-14 record. There was only one returning player to varsity this year, making for more of a rebuilding season. Said Coach Miss Treado, "It is not how many we won or lost that we will remember, but how we played the game." Through team effort and determination, the eagles held together while also creating fun and good times. The captain of the team was Reta Martin, and the co-captain was Nan Patton. Named Most Valuable Player was Nan Patton. The team is already looking forward to next season where they will be starting out with many returning players.

The Hard Work Pays Off

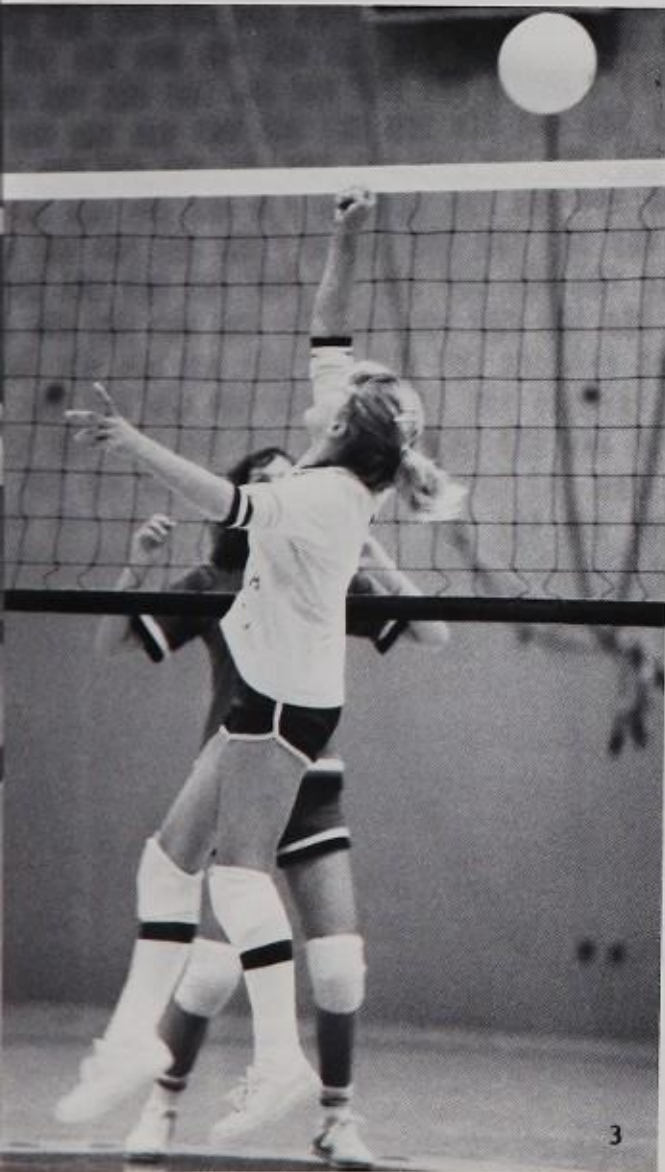

Improving over last year's record, the girl's Junior Varsity Volleyball team ended their season with nine wins and five losses. The girls worked extremely hard this year and played each game with great confidence.

The girls learned that working hard can also be fun. Everyone had a good time on the court, which is very important in a team sport like volleyball. Coach Pam Greisler was very proud of their outstanding season, and knew it would be a winning one because the girls played like one big family. There was always a feeling of togetherness displayed on the court. Coach Greisler felt the team work which existed between the girls, not only on the court but off, was the most important factor in their key to success.

Hard Work And Dedication Pay Off

This years Cross Country team got off to a slow start. Many of the runners were injured and coach Changruis had problems recruiting new members.

The boys were lucky enough to feild a team but the girls had a problem only able to find four runners. The majior goal of the team was to develop the individual runner. They were very successful in doing so by gaining outstanding performances from all the runners in the various dual and invitatioinal meets. Also Sean Carpenter and Paige Pawlak qualified for the state meet. Mr. Changuris was very proud of all his runners and he felt the season was a great success due to the hard work and dedication each member put forth.

SENECA'S SWIMTEAM: Determination & Spirit

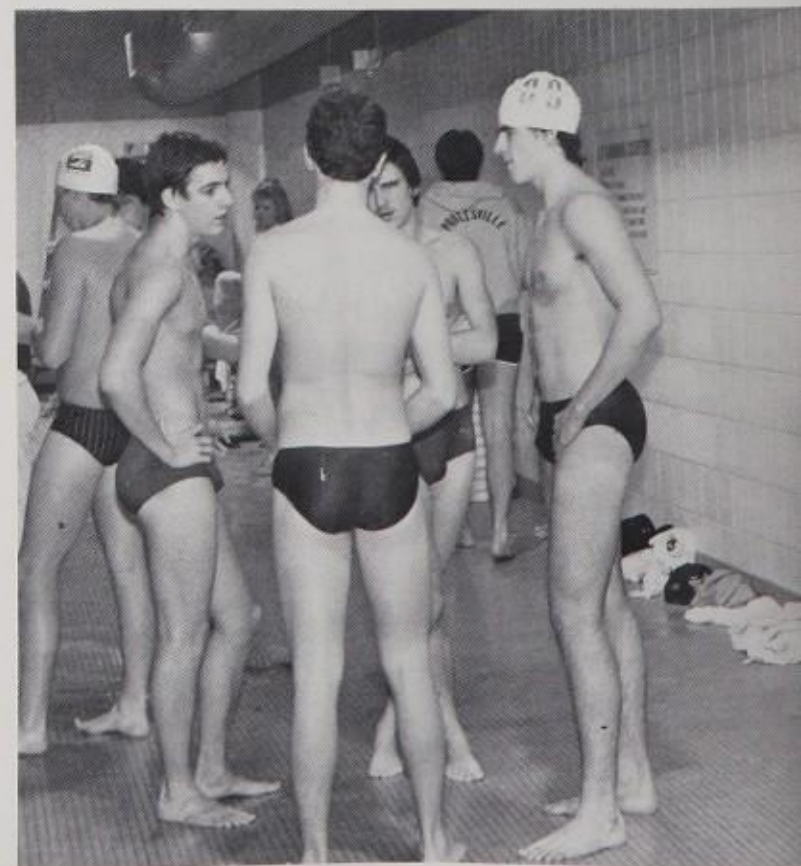

The boys swim team ended their season with 3 wins and 2 losses in the division, and 3 wins, 5 losses overall. They finished second in the divisional championships. The girls finished with the same divisional and overall record as the boys, and placed fourth in the divisional championships. The Co-Captains of the team were Elisabeth Minthorn, Kelly Lyons, and Sean Malony. The swim team had an overall enjoyable and successful year. There were exceptional performances by many of the swimmers, and even those who were not the "stars" of the team made some very impressive performances in the toughest events such as 200 Im, the 100 Fly, and the 500 Free. Though the team was small this year, the members held together well like one family- everyone helping each other. Though snow days and bad weather interfered with many of the planned practices, they were still able to pull off a good record and many close losses. Says Coach Elaine Robinson, "The loss to the BCC boys team by one point was very heartbreaking." Noted as outstanding contributors for the Girls were Kelly Lyons, Elisabeth Minthorn, and Ellen Young. Ellen, being noted as one of the best and most versatile swimmers Seneca Valley had ever had, qualified for the Washington Metropolitan Inter Scholastic Swimming Championships in every event. She also continues to break many school records, some of which are already hers. Noted as outstanding boys were Mark Brodeur, Leo Dilling, and Sean Maloney. One of the team's greatest individual losses next year will be the absence of diver Jon Nanto. Throughout his three years on the team, Jon has broken the school diving record many times and also contributed to the improvement of his fellow divers.

The Running Eagles Excel

Although a district or state championship was not won this year, the winter track team had an excellent season. The purpose of this year's team was to focus on the individual. Each runner set a goal for himself in hopes to attain it by the season's end.

Coach Robertson felt the team had an outstanding attitude and great cooperation from the athletes. He was also impressed by the significant progress made compared to the 1983-1984 season. Mr. Robertson also goes on to say, "A great group of people to spend time with... We had fun, worked hard, and exceeded our pre-season goals."

The boys team placed second in the region while the girls finished fifth. Outstanding contributors for the boys were Sean Carpenter. Placing first in the 500 meters in the region and also setting school records in the 55 meter hurdles and 500 meter run. Sean Jackson was regional champion in the 300 meters.

For the girls Tracy Lutz and Tina Haba for their second and third place finishes respectively in the shot. While Paige Pawlack placed third in the state mile run.

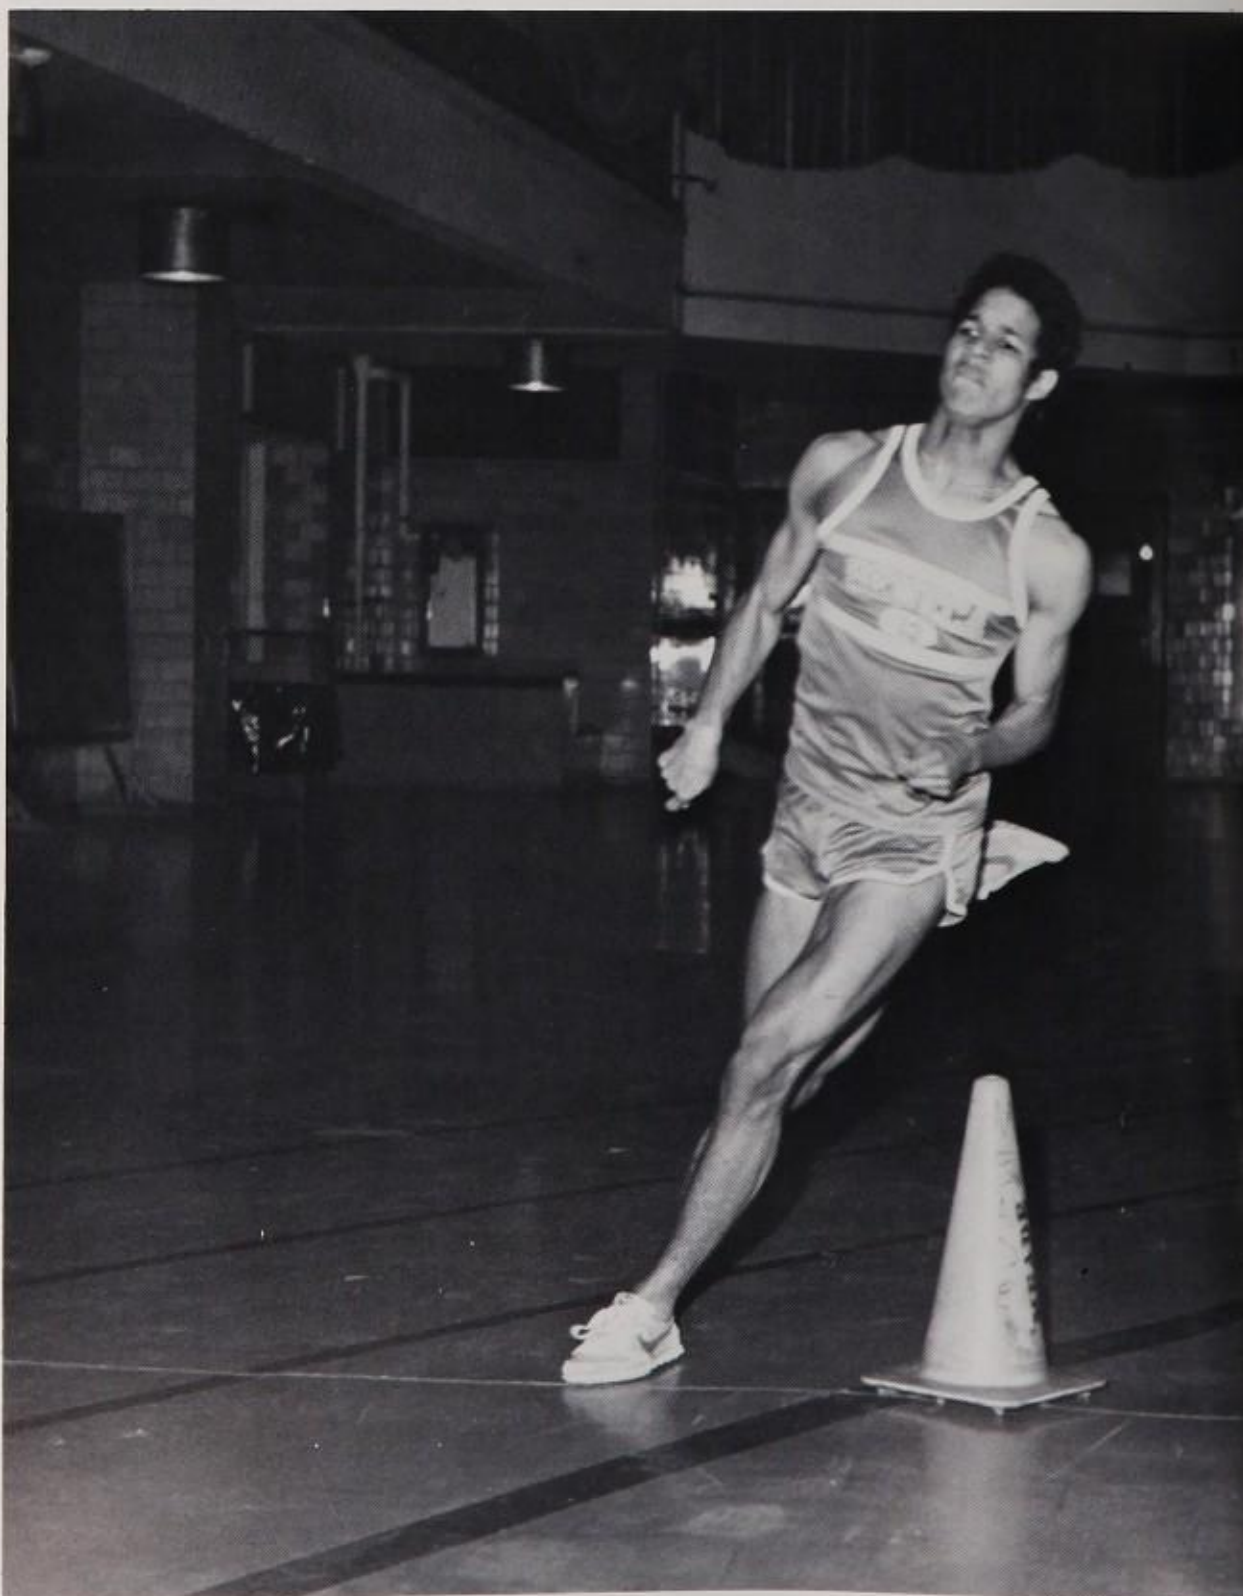

1. Sean Jackson takes the lead

2. Coach Robertson relaxes before the meet.

3. Sean Carpenter leans into the turn.

The boys winter track team placed 2nd in the division, while the girls' placed 5th.

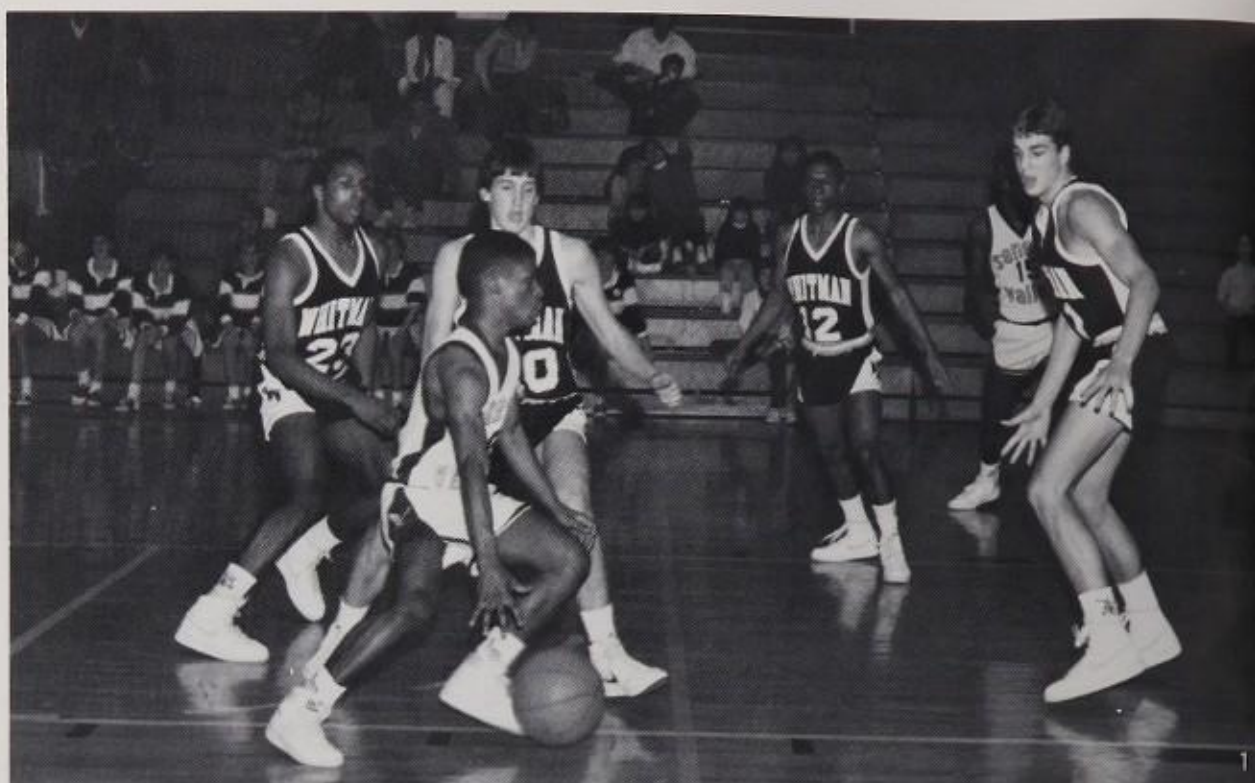

1. Nike helps the Eagles soar to victory.
2. Paige Pawlak makes her move and takes the inside lane.
3. Tamika gets crazy before her race.

J.V. COMES BACK STRONG

The Boy's J.V. Basketball team started the season with fierce determination to win. After starting the season with an optimistic two game win they're hopes for an undefeated season were crushed with an eight game losing streak. The chips seemed to be down for good, but the team came back! After the eight losses they pulled themselves together to win the last ten games of the season and finish with a final record of 12-8

The boys varsity basketball team ended their rough and tumble season with a 10 - 12 record. However that record does not convey the whole story as most of the games were lost by a couple of points in the last four minutes of play. "We just came up short to many times" commented Coach Doane.

There were too many downs and not enough ups throughout the season but the boys worked hard and played hard each game.

Under the guidance of Coach Doane, the team was lead by Senior Co - captains Greg Perigard, Jon Stevenson, and Paul Hayduk. Hayduk was also named most valuable player.

The girls J.V. basketball team finished with the best record in the county this year consisting of 16 wins and 4 losses. Not only were they first in the county but the best J.V. squad Seneca has ever had.

Coach Turnball attributes their success to the girls ability to work together as a team. No outstanding player was chosen because each girl gave one hundred percent every game. Mr. Turnball also feels the girls have the potential to become an "excellent varsity unit." We are looking forward to seeing the girls play on the varsity squad next year.

Soaring Through Playoffs

After losing many good seniors, it seemed as though the girls Varsity Basketball team was looking toward more of a rebuilding season. But to the surprise of all, this was soon to be proven untrue. Ending up in third place at the end of the regular season may have been a shock to some, but not to those who played or even to the loyal fans who came out to watch. The players never quit and the fans never stopped cheering. It was through total team effort that they were able to keep pace with other teams, while exhibiting a constant spirit and vigor that lifted them to the playoffs. Two seniors, point guard Nadine Komes and center Alison Sutton lead the team effort with consistent playing throughout the season. Senior Christy Schuchter, remembered for being highest scorer in some games, will be greatly missed as well as Roxanne Benson for her skill and determination shown through the constant effort she displayed. The juniors and newly moved up Sophomores look forward to next year with hope and excitement, as they will be an experienced team, with even more spirit than before. Losing to Blair in the playoffs was a great disappointment, but it means that next year's team will be setting their goals higher, and aiming for an even more winning season.

The first annual combined Gaithersburg/Seneca Valley NJROTC ball was held at the Gaithersburg Holiday Inn on February 16, 1985. The ball consisted of a formal buffet dinner as well as a dance with a live band. There was a tremendous turn-out, a total of 130 cadets. The purpose of the ball was to provide a formal, military social event for all cadets. Deciding to combine the ball with Gaithersburg gave the cadets a chance to interact with each other on a social social basis. Both Seneca and Gaithersburg have previously competed with each other in drill competitions as well as going to sea and attending boot camp together. The ball provided a wonderful opportunity for getting to know each other in addition to having a good time. Cadets from both Seneca and Gaithersburg are looking forward to carrying on a very enjoyable tradition!!

1) The Conservation Club went to Bennett Regional Park in an attempt to hatch trout eggs and stock them in the spring.
2)-5) Laws, Mr. Turnbull, and the students began to build the hatchery to hold the brown trout eggs.

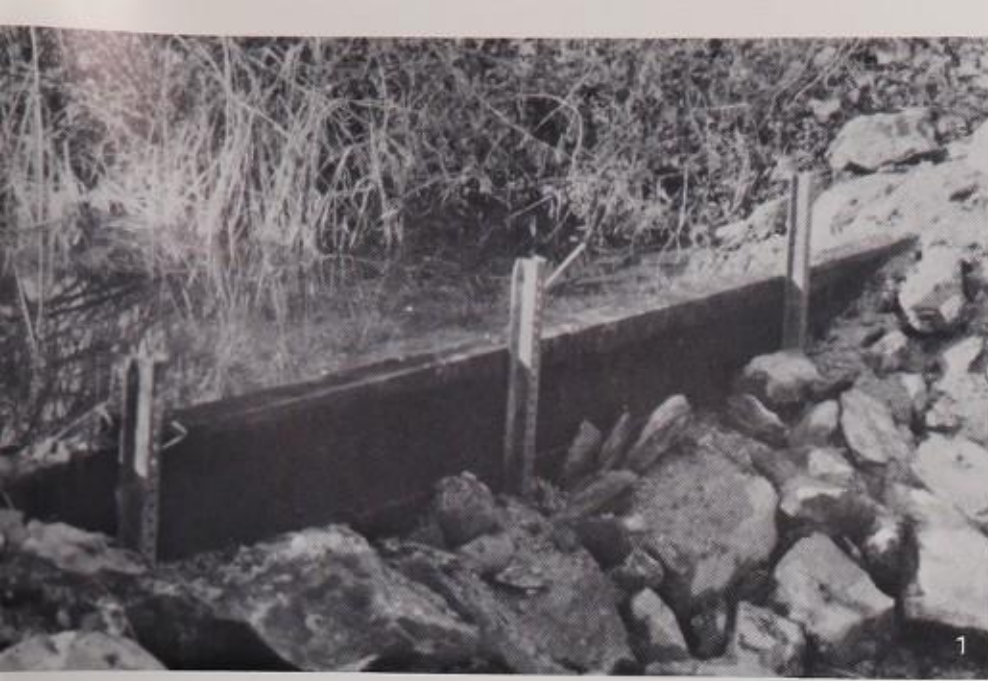

Helping The Community . . .

The Conservation Association members spent their time performing valuable services for the community once again this year. They placed fish eggs in a water trough in a creek at Little Bennett Regional Park, planning to move them into a stream later. The group also went to the Environmental Outdoors Show. Mr. Turnbull and Mr. Laws were co-sponsors for this association.

6)-8) The students and park personnel continue to build the hatchery for roughly 12,000 eggs.

- 1) Blocking off the water is one of the steps taken in building the hatchery for the fish eggs.
- 2) The eggs are collected from the female trout.
- 3) The eggs collected from the fish are placed in the hatchery.

Through The Environment

- 4)-5) The members of the Conservation Club sift the good eggs from the dead ones.
- 6) The outcome of 4000 to 5000 fish out of 12,000 eggs is considered good-to-excellent.

SV students on Lakeforest Fashion Panel

Thirty young men and women were selected from over 100 applicants to the 1985 Lakeforest Fashion Panel at auditions held at the shopping center.

The new members were chosen by a panel of judges that included Scott Woodside, Q107 deejay; Jeanne Blackburn, fashion columnist; Ellin O'Hare, fashion consultant and model; and Paula Yudelevit, Lakeforest's marketing director.

The Fashion Panel members met throughout the year with fashion and retail experts, and participated in fashion shows and seminars. They were introduced to the public on March 16 and 17 at their first fashion show in Center Court at Lakeforest. The 1985 Lakeforest Fashion Panel members were: Vineeta Rastogi, Razia Kosi, Kendal Stewart, and Jon Hilliard.

A round of applause goes to these "flashy" SV students.

John,

It has been nice knowing you. You helped to make English class interesting. I hope you have a nice summer! Good luck next year in college! Don't forget your grammar!! Maybe the books in college won't be as depressing as The Crucible and 1984. Have a great life!

Your Friend,
Lorraine

Goodbye Mrs. Bell.

After serving as Seneca Valley's principal for one and one-half years, Mrs. Marion Bell left Seneca to become the Director of the Department of Human Relations for Montgomery County Public Schools. Bell, whose last day was March 13, summed up her feelings about Seneca Valley, saying, "It has been wonderful."

Her new job offers her a broader range of people to work with. "I have influence in schools throughout the system," she disclosed. She helps teachers "find ways to maximize students' potential and make them feel good about themselves," in addition to trying to improve the school "climate" in MCPS. "School ought to be a place where kids can work hard, but a place that they enjoy," Bell explained and added that she wants to "help create that environment for all kids."

At the Department of Human Relations, Mrs. Bell deals with discrimination and sex equity complaints, concerning the employment of all kinds of people. She stated her opinion on this issue, saying, "I don't believe that God nor our founding fathers intended there to be any injustices or that there is any privileged group."

Although her new job is not supposed to involve coming in contact with students often, Bell proclaimed, "I'm going to change the job so that I will." She has enjoyed working with students as SV, whom she said she would "miss more than anything."

Mrs. Bell said that she has many fond memories of SV, and that she is proud of her accomplishments here, including having folders, buttons, and themes each year; reducing the number of suspensions and LC's; refurbishing the teachers' lounge; and adding the Truant. She added that some of her most enjoyable activities were dealing with students and parents.

Mrs. Bell, our principal of one and one half years.

Mrs. Bell spoke during the football banquet.

A group of attentive students listens.

Mrs. Bell and Mr. Quick monitor the afternoon bus rush.

Mr. Lauer is taking these lucky eight people on an overseas trip to Europe. The eight people are (l to r) Laura Davis, Sooky Park, Joseph Kessel, Mary Botting, Beth Crowley, and Ken Litrell.

Kelli Martin (class of '87) shows promise of a successful future in dance. Performances of Nutcracker (Washington Ballet National Society of Arts).

Courtney Hill smiles brightly at the end of another successful pom routine.

Hope Emerick puts her heart into the cheer as she cheerleads for the last time at Seneca Valley.

Many years after we graduate, and we pull the 1985 Aquilian from its dusty shelf, what memories will we have of this past school year? The formal definition of a memory is "a recognition of former experiences." We'll think of achievements like placing 9 out of 16 in statewide Pom Pon competition. We'll remember prominent students like Tresa Pinkney, a finalist in the National

Achievement Scholarship Program for Outstanding Negro Students; and Laurice Chow, Courtney Clements, Jonathan Kay, Ilkyoon Kim, Amy Rabb, and Randy Switt, who all made the finals in the 1985 Merit Scholarship Competitions. Flipping through the pages of this book we will have recognitions not just of experiences and achievements, surely, but also of feelings that accompanied them.

The staff of the Aquilian has worked hard all year to capture these feelings in words and pictures and present them in a sort of scrapbook called a yearbook. Pictures that conjure up memories of dances, soccer and football games and final exams, and favorite teachers like Mr. Scott & Mrs. Frye who are retiring this year.

Projections And Reflections

A sight that signifies the end of another school day, the buses waiting to take students home.

Paul Vetter takes one last look and reflects on the last three years of his life.

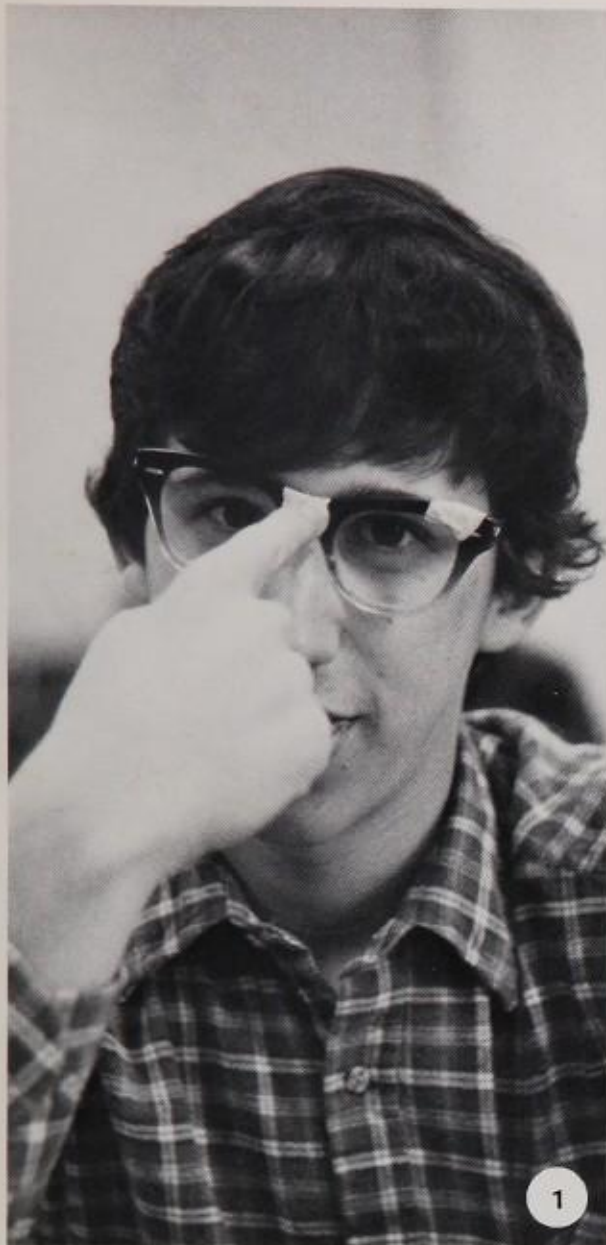

Gale Lucy reflects upon memories of her high school days.

Words that remind us of friends, loves and truly happy times.

Each one of us will choose a different life for ourself, be it college or marriage or moving out of state. The graduates of 1985 aren't the only people from Seneca making a change in their lives. Mrs. Marion Bell, Seneca's principal for 18 months is leaving to work with the Department of Human Relations. She has contributed so much to this school, and it is a better place because of her work here. We are thankful for her time here, and next years' Juniors and Seniors will miss her. All of us, when we read this book time and time again will feel the same thing. A sort of assuredness that comes from knowing that we once had friends at Seneca, and we always will.

New Principal Dr. Richard Dumais

Seneca Valley High School is indeed the Pride of the Valley. I came to Seneca Valley in mid-March to what I was told was a "great school." That statement has proved itself to be absolutely true in all possible aspects; great staff, students and community. After attending and participating in the annual musical, WOC banquet, performing arts banquet, various sports events, sports banquets, the awards assembly and culminating with the graduation of the Class of 1985, I feel that I am indeed fortunate to be assigned to this school. I look forward to assisting in its future development as a superior MCPS high school in all aspects of high school life, academic, athletic and extracurricular.

Beach Bums Abound

The class of '85 was undecided on where to spend their Spring Break. Aruba and the Bahamas were suggested in order to break the tradition of going to Daytona Beach. Yet when thought about and discussed, Daytona won hands down.

The Seniors and their chaperones left Easter Sunday evening to begin the 18 hour bus ride South. Due to many unexpected stops along the way, the entire trip took about 20 to 22 hours.

Once in Daytona the seniors amused themselves with a dance and barbecue at Wet-n-Wild Water Park. This gave them a chance to mingle with other seniors from neighboring schools. Between sunbathing and swimming the seniors also found time to take the school sponsored trip to Disneyworld and Epcot. When asked what the main attraction at Epcot was, two answers stood out from the rest: "Good looking foreign guys", stated Missy Hoegy Gerry Habarth simply commented, "more wine".

The following Saturday came much too soon for these Seneca Valley beach bums as they started thinking about Gaithersburg and SCHOOL! The rooms were tidied up, bags were packed, and tears were shed as they prepared for the journey home. The worst part of this whole week was waving goodbye to the bright palm trees, sandy beaches, and tropical sun. This most memorable event that highlights the senior year will not soon be forgotten.

6 Jeff Reed was crowned Mr. Seneca 1985.

The annual Mr. Seneca and the first annual Miss Seneca contests were held in May. The first runner up in the Mr. Seneca contest was Jon Nanto and the new Mr. Seneca for 1985 was Jeff Reed. In the Miss Seneca contest Shelly Slade was first runner up and Sharon Vargo was crowned the first Miss Seneca.

Both contests were alike in that there were four judges from outside the school and all contestants were judged in four different events.

Basketball Awards

The Seneca Valley Basketball team held their banquet in May to honor the members of the team and their families. Bruce Baumgarten was voted top offensive player, Greg Perigard - top defensive player, and Paul Hayduck was voted Most Valuable Player.

All attending enjoyed a fine evening out.

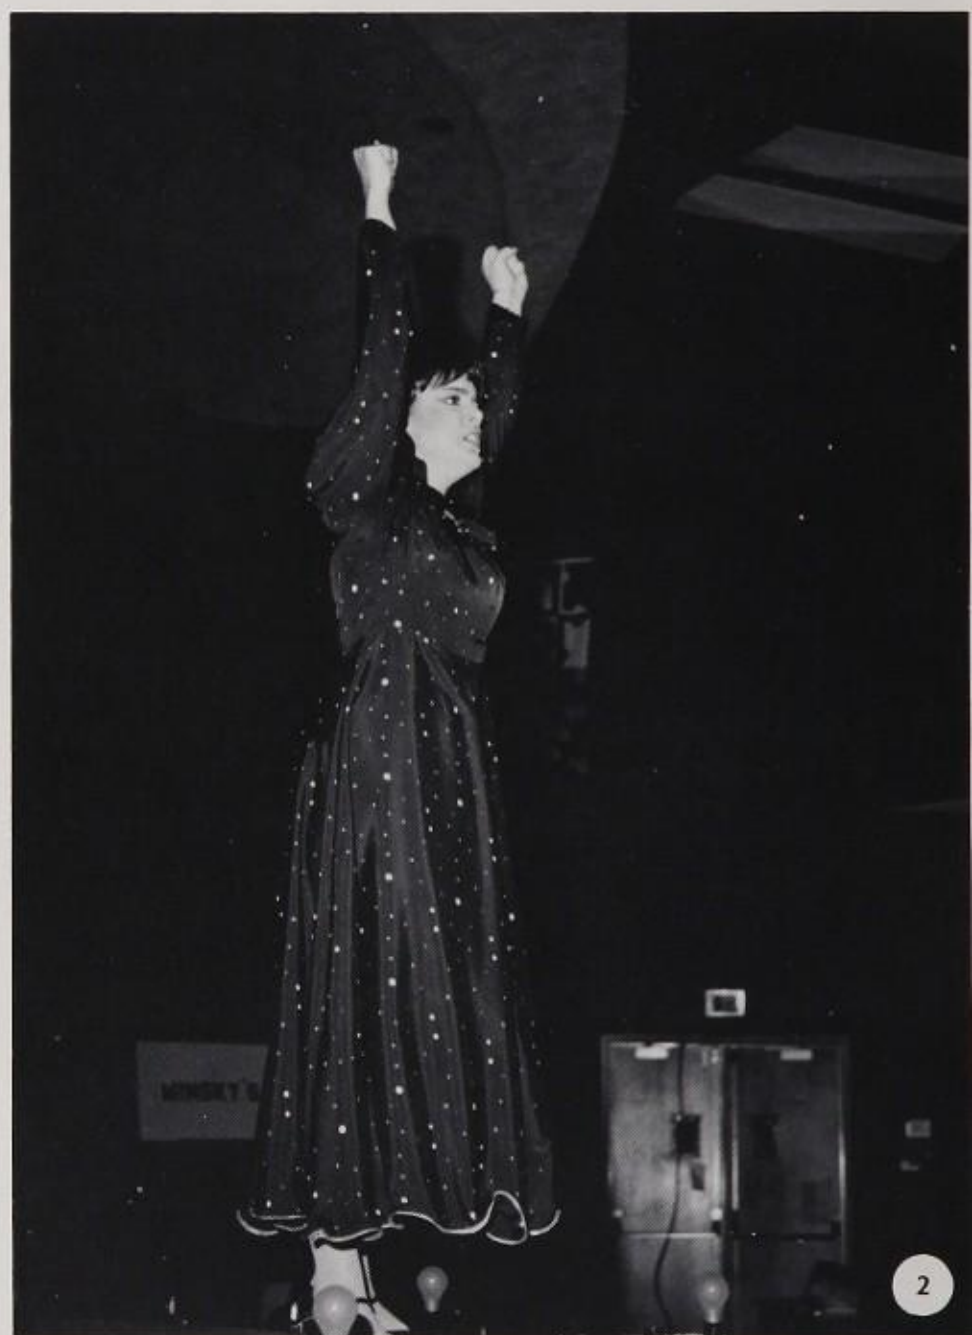

"Gypsy"

- 1 What a happy family.
- 2 Caroline Cash puts on a tremendous performance.
- 3 Performing is hard work.
- 4 Michele Gomez and Linda Robinson—dressed to kill.
- 5 Mama Rose and Louise—smile for the camera.

Everything was "coming up roses" last May as Caroline Cash as Mama Rose dominated Seneca Valley's 1985 spring musical, Gypsy. The award-winning show traced the conflicts between Rose and her daughters, June (Caroline Thompson) and Louise (Susan Fazakerley), who went on to become the famed burlesque star Gypsy Rose Lee. In the process, Rose wins and loses the love of their acting manager, Herbie (Jay Arcarese).

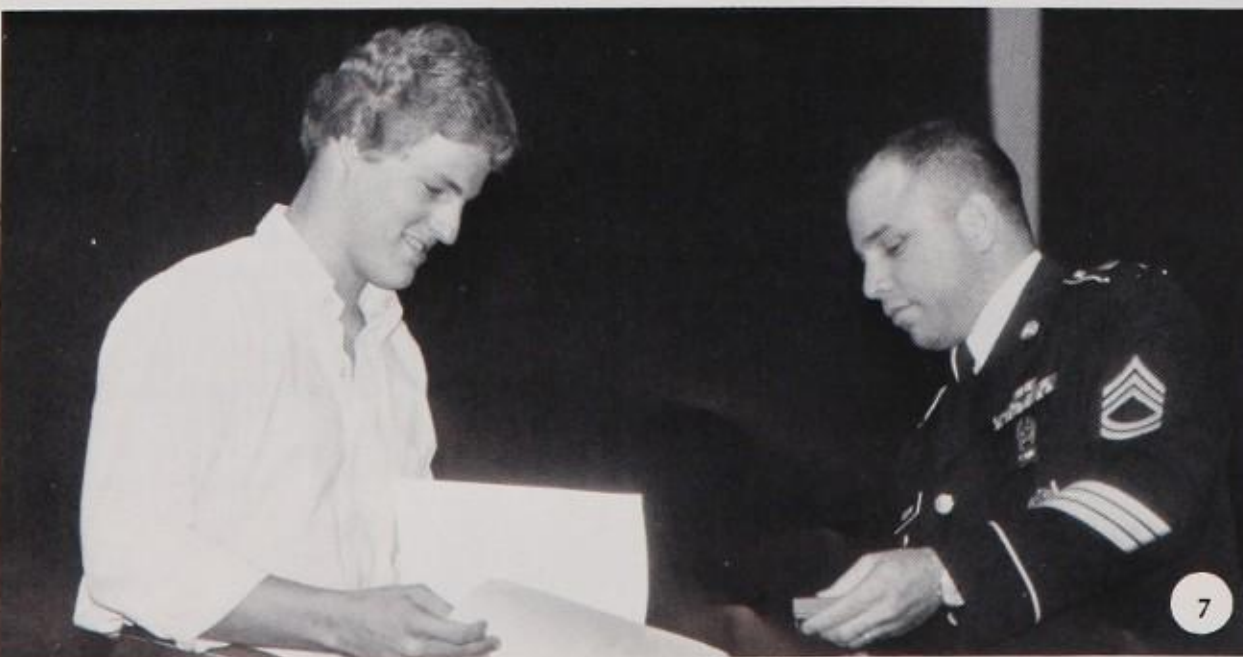

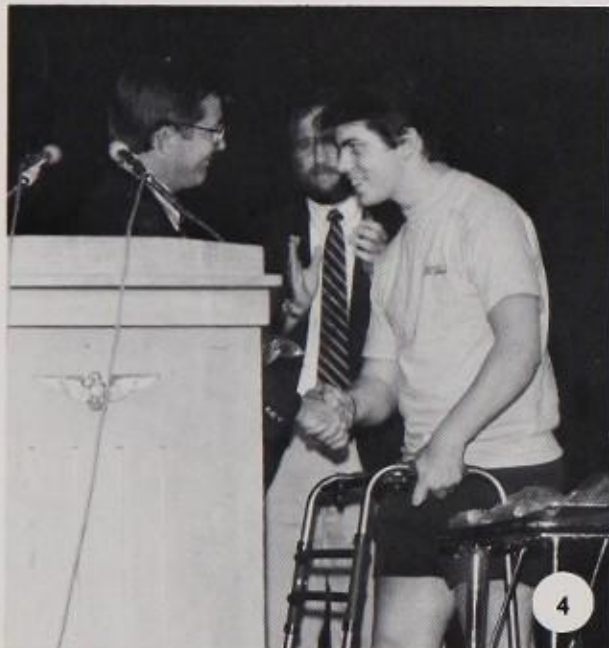

Spring Musical

- 1 Susan Fazakerly debuts as Gypsy Rose Lee.
- 2 Mama Rose and Herbie discuss Louise's future.
- 3 Mama tells Louise she must be a star.
- 4 The cast is full of beautiful girls.
- 5 Diane Maher informs the audience.

The talented cast, under the direction of Dr. Bogar, Mr. Heier, Ms. Timmins, and Ms. Joseph, told the audience for two weekends: "Let us Entertain You," because we're "Together Wherever We Go." The performers were supported by creative, colorful technical effects designed by Mr. Havatt, Mr. Hinkeldey, Ms. Hardinge, Ms. Baker, and Ms. Malitz. As the pictures show, the energy, dedication, and talent that went into Gypsy created an unforgettable production and hundreds of happy memories.

Award Ceremony

- 1 Clare Dolan received the principal's athlete award from Dr. Dumais.
2 Alaunda Drain received the Rotary Club scholarship.
3 Amy Rabb received outstanding science award from Mrs. Tonkery.

- 4 Matt Richards received outstanding physical education award.
5 Cindy Atwater received the Seneca Valley award from Mrs. Bell.
6 Paul Hayduck received the principal's student athlete award from Dr. Dumais.
7 Jon Stevenson received the U.S. Naval Academy scholarship from Captain Alter.

Monday night, May 21, many distinguished students gathered in the auditorium to receive every kind of award from outstanding work in a foreign language to the best all-around student at Seneca Valley. Dr. Dumais added an award this year. The principal's student athlete award went to Clare Dolan and Paul Hayduck.

Mrs. Bell was also on hand to present the Seneca Valley award which went to Cindy Atwater for all the time and effort she put in on various activities this year.

Other awards that were received were "All A's", numerous scholarship and academic excellence awards. There were many writing awards as well as athletic triumphs, and recognition of the National Merit Scholars.

N.H.S. Induction + Award Ceremony

The National Honor Society Induction was held in March. The ceremony consisted of Mrs. Bell and the officers giving a short speech and the inductees reciting the Honor Society oath. There were fifty-six new members inducted this year.

The requirements for the Honor Society are a grade point average of 3.5 and having leadership and scholastic qualities. All of the applications were reviewed by a faculty committee and they chose the new members. The inductees were given a flower to let them know they had been chosen.

Awards Of Performing Arts And Music

The Performing Arts and Music awards ceremony was held in May to award outstanding students in those fields. All students worked extremely hard in their area and should be congratulated for their fine accomplishments.

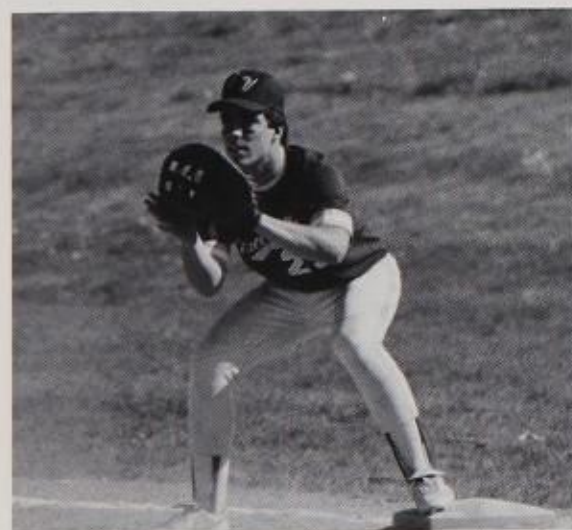

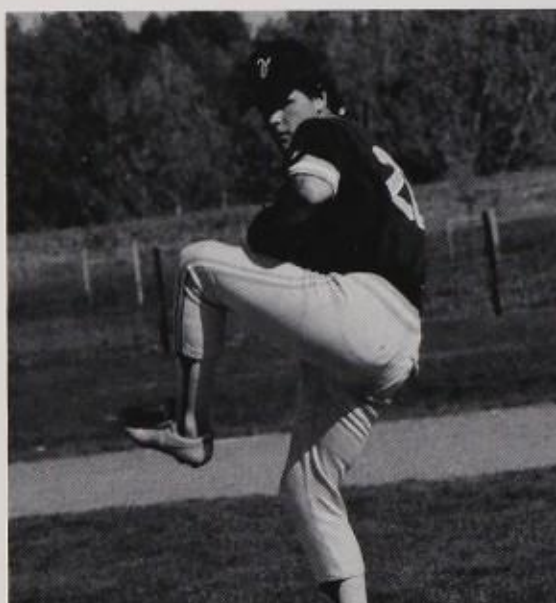

WOC Banquet

- 1 Kelly Gassaway, Earl Young and Dorteia Roberts have been outstanding members of WOC.
- 2 Kelli Lawson tells of her experiences in the WOC program.
- 3 Stephanie Frazier is proud to be a member of WOC.
- 4 Sharon Jones and guest share a quiet moment at the WOC banquet.
- 5 Kim Moore has enjoyed being a part of WOC.
- 6 Proud friends and parents enjoying the dinner and conversation.
- 7 Tony Davis receives his WOC certificate of achievement.

As in the past ten years, the 1985 WOC banquet was a great success. The dinner was planned and paid for by the WOC students, who attended along with their parents, employers and guests. Work Oriented Curriculum is possible only through the helpful support and leadership of Nancy Kemp, Terry Changuris, Beaufort McLaughlin and Barbara DiLuchio. WOC is a co-operative education program that has as a goal the development of both specific and general skills which facilitate upgrading on the job.

The banquet offered its attendants good food, entertainment, and recognition for the hard work that these students perform all year.

A Season Of Agony And E

After starting out the season with seven straight victories, including a thrilling 20-17 win over the previously unbeaten Wheaton team, the Screaming Eagles only won four of their next nine games to finish the regular season with 11 wins and 5 losses. This was good enough to propel them into the playoffs where they once again defeated the number one seeded Wheaton before losing to Churchill in the second round. Steady performances for the Eagles were seniors Andy Malloy (460 avg, league leading 7 home runs), Dan Division (450 avg. 2.2 e.r.a.), Paul Hayduk (400 avg), Joe Moyer (315 avg), Mark Schultz (375 avg) and Brent Prather (350 avg). The under classmen who contributed and will be counted heavily on next year were Dennis Reighard, Jim Signora, Steve Prokop, Doug Novak, Eric Rosen, and Tom McAleavey. All in all a great season for Mr. Long and the boys.

J.V. Baseball

A Season Of Ups And Downs

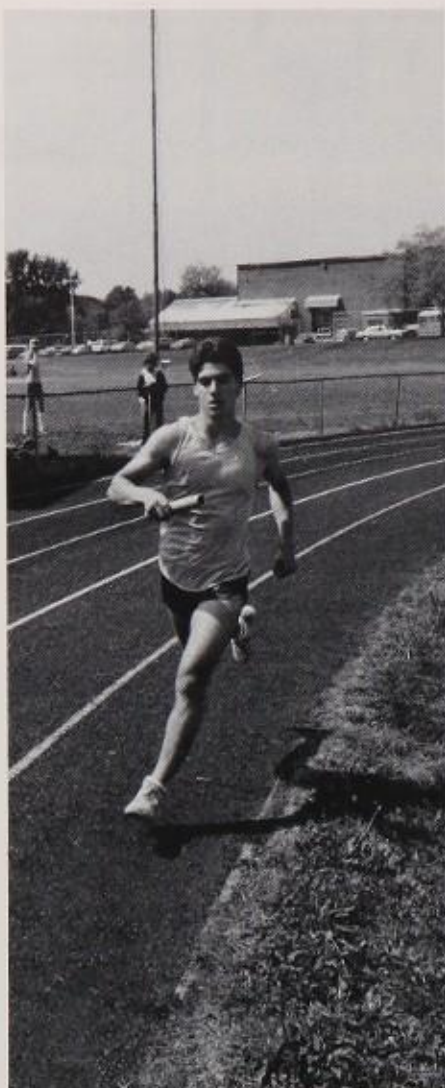

The Varsity Softball team ended an exciting up and down season with a record of 6 wins and 10 loses. The highlight of the season was beating Gaithersburg in the last game of the season, knocking them out of first place. Said Coach Barnhart, "It was a rough season. The record was not indicative of how hard these kids work. They were really a great bunch of kids." The team captains were Ernita Frazier, Krista Fischer, and Laura Smith. The two Most Valuable Player's were Laura Smith, a senior, and Beth Abbott, a junior.

The Spring Track team had an up and down season. After losing and gaining members, the track team finally settled down in mid-season. The core of the team consisted of the distance crew lead by team leaders Paige Pawlak and Warren Aronson. The field event crew coached by Mr. Dormo surprised everyone with their new found talents Ben Thompson, Roslyn Benson, and Jon Stevenson.

The small sprinting team was kept alive by hurdler Sean Jackson. Head coaches Mr. Robertson and Mr. Samuda are proud of all the runners. They both agree the dedication, hard work, and enthusiasm made the team excel at the end of the season.

The boys finished with a record of 3 wins and 2 losses and the girls ended up with one win and 4 losses.

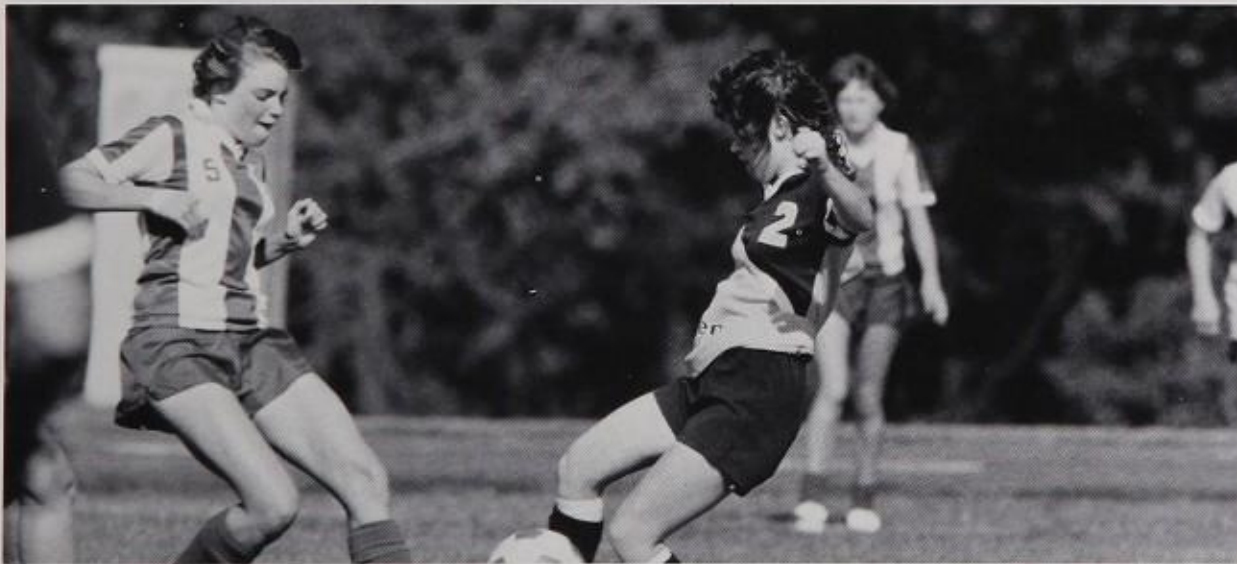

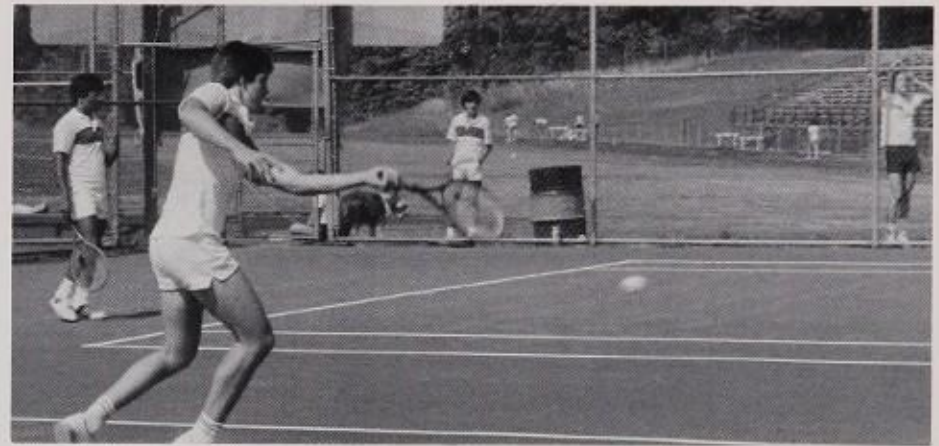

Spring Track Excels

Seneca's Best

The 1985 Boy's Tennis season was Seneca's best ever. The teams record was 13 wins and 3 losses. Out of twenty teams, Seneca finished third place. Standout players include Ravi Narayanan, T.J. O'Halloran, Mike Little, Raji Jolly, Andy Choi, Chris Carlton, John Nelson, Mike Kennedy, Rajcesh Patel, and Ravi Chouldloy. Congratulations Boy's! The seniors will surely be missed, but we look forward to another successful season yet to come.

The 1985 Girl's Soccer team posted the first winning season in the history of the sport at Seneca Valley. The team finished with six wins, five losses, and one tie. There was an excellent blend of youth and experience on the team, with several seniors and several sophomores playing key roles. Senior Goalie Nadine Komes had her third outstanding varsity season and was the most valuable player on the team. Laura Riordan, Linda Savage, Jill Kroll, Anne Marie Puglise, Christi Dilenno, Libby Johnston, and Rosalyn Benson were the other graduating players and all will be missed. However, with seven returning starters (six sophomores), the team should be strong again next year. Sophomore Evey Wooten was the team leader in assists with seven and sophomore Tara Osier was the scoring leader with eleven goals.

A Winning Season

A Season Of Intensity

This was a rebuilding season for the Co-ed Volleyball team this year with only one returning player, Brad Rosenthal. Even though the experience wasn't there the team ended up with a 7-7 record. They also finished second in the tournament held at Seneca against BCC, Blair, Kennedy, and Einstein.

Seneca will be losing starting seniors Kevin McLeskey, Brad Rosenthal, Courtney Clements Brian O'Roark, and Larry Orth. Coach Pam Greisler is proud to say the team played with a lot of intensity throughout the season and never gave up. Coach Greisler throughout is excitedly looking forward to next season.

3. Matt Richard reaches his biggest goal.

Seneca Valley's graduating class of 1985 was very unique. For the first year ever, there were five valedictorians: Courtney Clements, Mahesh Desai, Christine Dilenno, Kimberly Dorio, and Linda Fong. Along with these five valedictorians there were three salutatorians: Krista Fischer, Kyung Hu, and Amy Rabb. Of the 595 graduating seniors, 40 received scholarships from various colleges including Harvard and Stanford. Whether it be attending college or pursuing rewarding careers, each and every senior will strive towards reaching yet another goal.

1. Anxious graduates await the final moment.

2. Seneca Valley's Class of '85 . . . the best!

It was a hot and humid Monday evening as the seniors anxiously awaited the final ritual of their memorable high school years. As much as there was a sense of relief, there was also an undertone of sadness. Many knew they would forget old friends as they began their new lives out in the working world as college freshmen or whatever fate had in store.

1. Krisy Pay dreams about her future.
2. We're free at last!!!
3. Stacey Moore and Sean Miller—friends forever.
4. Susan Rudik and Krissy Parker making last minute preparations.
5. This is what High School is really all about.
6. This is it!!!

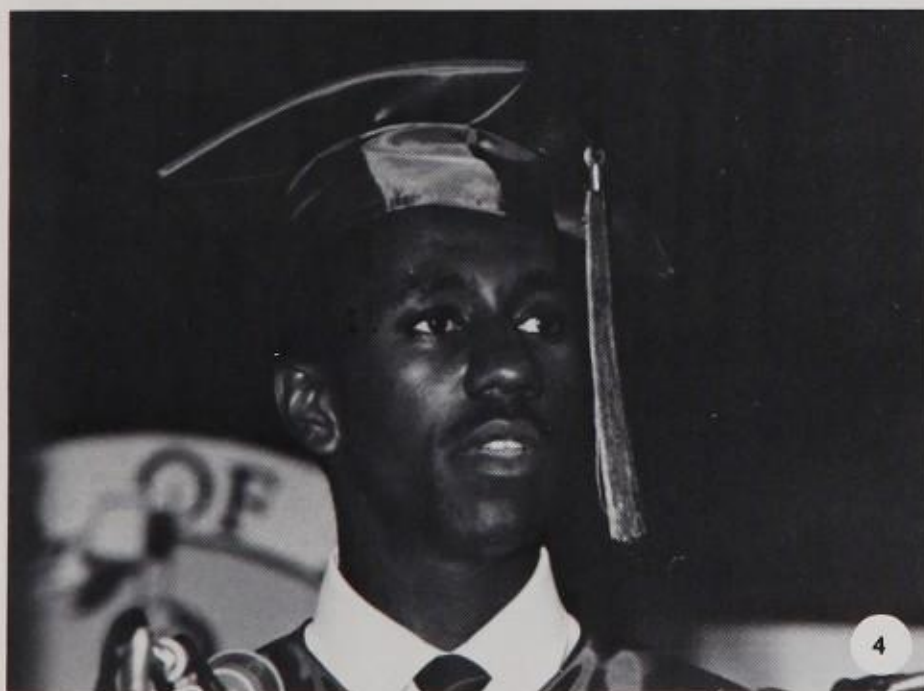

1. Class Valedictorians: Linda Fong, Kim Dorio, and Christie Dilenno.

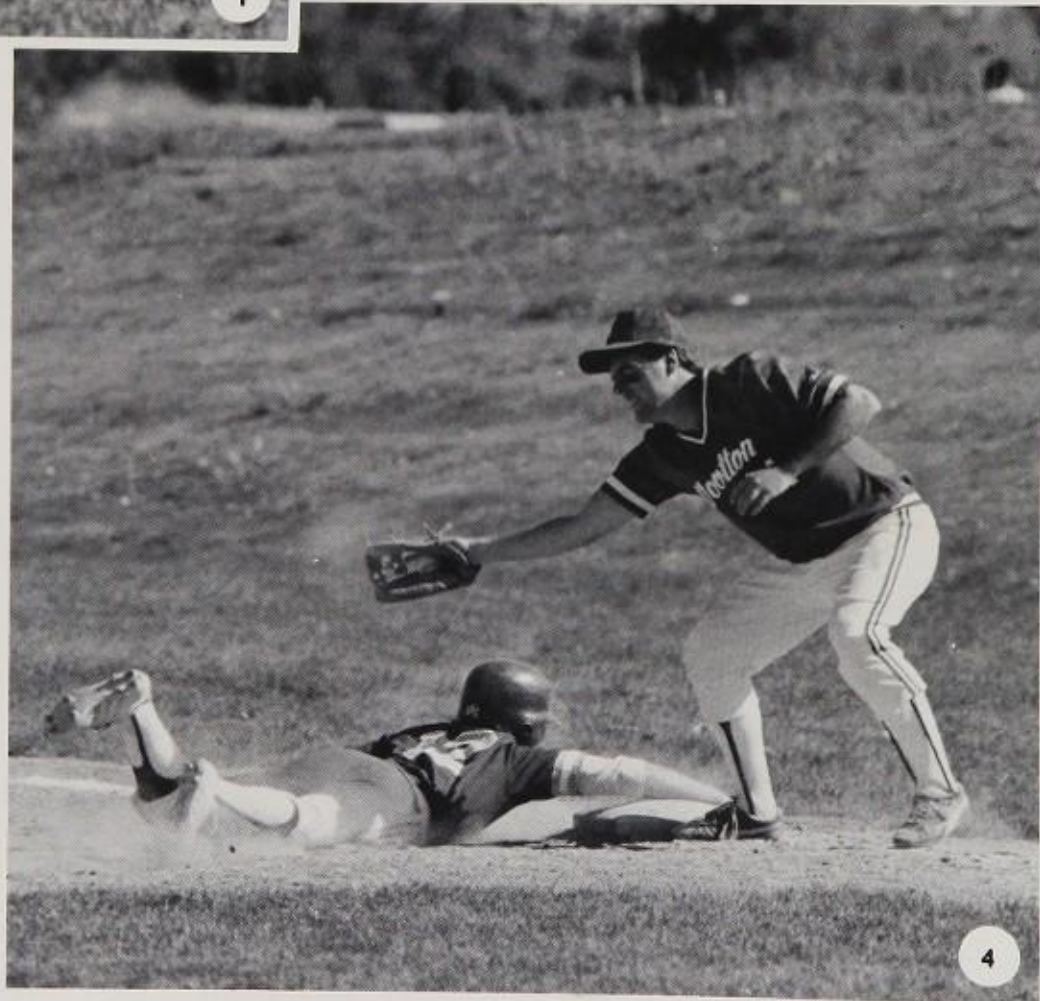

2. We made it!!

3. Class President Eric McDonald encouraged the graduates to soar to greater heights.

4. Patrice King embraces a special friend.

B o o s t e r C l u b

Through hard work and love for Seneca Valley, the Booster Club has always provided funds for various school organizations. Boosters mainly support athletics- wrestling, football, volleyball, etc., but unlike similar clubs in other schools, they also support other organizations. This year under the leadership of Maralyn Whitmore-President, Carol Slothower-Vice President, Artith Johnson-Secretary, and Tom Guinera- Treasurer, the Boosters raised money for ROTC, the Mr. Seneca Contest, the Latin Bowl, Drama, T.V. production, German Club, NHS, and ice machine for games and more. The Boosters also give students in these clubs and teams incentives to work by offering to match funds raised by students at the concession stand during games, candy sales, etc. Mr. Doan and Mr. Lauer, the faculty representatives feel that the parents who serve on the Booster Club deserve hearty thanks. Many of the members do not even have students going to Seneca Valley any longer yet they continue their support. THANKS BOOSTERS!!

John - been a GREAT year!! I have enjoyed having you in Accounting this year. You were a BIG HELP I hope you have a great summer and enjoy the college life at SMU!! Good luck in the future - I'm sure you will be successful. Good luck. Stay in touch at 7-5338 Love - Kendra

John,
It's been great knowing you and having classes with you since Jr. High. You're a really classy guy and I wish you the best of luck next year. I'll remember all the football and basketball pools we've done and all the jokes in Mr. Hudock's class. Have a great life and enjoy the summer. John Alter

John,

I'm really glad I got to know you this year. I don't think I could have made it through Accounting without you. I enjoyed talking music and remember PRINCE is the best! Even though I'm jealous, I wish you all the luck in the world for always listening to my dilemmas. I hope to see you this summer.

Love,
Courtney
